Too Many Courts And Lawyers, Says Woman Attorney

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—In a communication published today in The Los Angeles Daily Journal, the noted woman lawyer, Clara Shortridge Foltz, declares there are too many courts and too many lawyers. In part she is quoted as saying:

"Taxpayers of Los Angeles county should be spared further onslaught upon their resources for the payment of judges and the maintenance of courts.

"We have too many courts now, too many lawyers, too much litigation. Why not call a halt and, before the legislature convenes in January, make it known to all who read that we will oppose every attempt to increase the number of judges for Los Angeles county, that we will not submit to be taxed for the gratification of the few whose differences may be adjusted in the private offices of their respective attorneys?"

SUN YAT SEN ACT STIRS WORLD

China Dictator Threatens to Seize Customs Receipts To Pay Troops

CANTON, Oct. 21.—Action which may precipitate international complications is threatened by Sun Yat Sen, the south China dictator, who has declared his intention of seizing the customs receipts of Canton in order to raise funds for his troops, according to an authoritative report here late today.

In the event of foreign interference with his plan, Sun Yat Sen proposes to establish a customs house of his own in this port and to attempt to force a tax payment to his revenue collectors for all merchandise entering Canton, the same report read.

Defiance Offered

Sun is prepared to defy the powers if they interfere with the operation of the customs house he plans to establish, the report continued, and armed force will be used by the south China leader, if necessary.

Fighting in Canton has stopped and the situation remains quiet—though extremely tense—following Sun's defeat of the merchant volunteers who attempted to oust his mercenaries from the city.

Retreat Necessary

SHANGHAI, Oct. 21.—Wu Pei Fu, commander-in-chief of the Peking forces, battling against the invading armies of Chang Tso Lin, war lord of Manchuria, has wired to President Tsao Kun at Peking, in Chihli province, that it will be necessary for the government forces to retreat from Shanhaikuan to Luanchow, in the region of the great wall of China along the Chihli-Manchurian border, because of a dangerous encircling movement against Wu Pei Fu's troops in that sector, according to a Japanese news agency despatch received here tonight.

The same despatch adds that President Tsao Kun replied to General Wu Pei Fu, urging that every effort be taken to avoid such a retreat from Shanhaikuan because of the bad effect on the morale of the Chihli troops.

President Tsao Kun wired Wu that it would be preferable for the Peking army to be completely defeated once and for all by the Manchurians rather than to retreat, according to the agency despatch.

HEAVY GUNS FIRE IN OIL HEARINGS

U. S. Counsel Charges Fraud In Elks Hill Leases to Doheny and Others

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—Charging "there was fraud in the making of the Elk Hills naval oil leases to the E. L. Doheny interests" and that contracts were granted without due authority of law, Owen J. Roberts, special counsel engaged under orders of President Coolidge to represent the United States, fired the first gun in the federal battle to secure a cancellation of the documents today.

The courtroom was crowded with spectators, attracted to the scene by the presence of many prominent men, who have been called to testify in the case, among whom were former Secretaries of the Navy Josephus Daniels and Edwin Denby.

Echo from Washington

An echo of the famous Senate oil inquiry which occupied the limelight in Washington for many months as tale after tale of governmental scandal was unfolded, involving many high officials, gathered momentum and finally resulted in a climax which turned the federal building into a beehive of action.

The occasion was the opening of the suit of the United States against the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company; the Pan-American Petroleum company; Edward L. Doheny, head of both companies, and Edward L. Doheny, Jr., his son.

In its suit the government is attempting to force cancellation of oil leases executed in favor of the Doheny companies giving them rights to the Elk Hills fields of the naval oil reserve units in California.

Array of Legal Talent

The basis of the federal suit was formed as a result of the Senate oil inquiry and the details surrounding the government's contention that the leases should be abrogated occupied the greater portion of today's hearing.

Headed by former Senator Atlee Pomerene of Ohio, the array of legal talent specially hired by the United States attorney-general to conduct the case opened the session before United States District Judge Paul J. McCormick with a complete statement of facts.

In their remarks the government attorneys pointed out the evidence which had been uncovered, resulting in the filing of the suit, and demonstrated points which they intend to prove in support of their contentions.

Slush Fund Spotlight Turned on Democrats

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—A more complete picture of the year's national political expenditures was unfolded today before Senator Borah's investigating committee. The searchlight was turned temporarily away from the coffers of the Republican National committee and those of the Progressives, centering on the finances of the Democrats.

"Official figures made public by the Democrats in advance of the appearance of Shaver and Gerard indicated the Democratic campaign fund so far only amounted to about half that collected by the Republicans. A compilation by the Democrats of contributions in excess of $100, showed an aggregate of $516,826, while the Republican fund, according to figures submitted to the Borah committee at Chicago, now totals around a million and a third dollars.

The highest single contribution was $25,000, there being two in this amount. The donors were Bernard M. Baruch, former chairman of the war industries board, and Jesse H. Jones, director of finance for the Democratic National committee, and Mrs. Jones, contributing another $5,000.

La Follette Following Strong In Cleveland, State Favors Coolidge

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 21.—This is a hotbed of La Follette sentiment. Straw votes show that in the city hall, in the Federal Reserve bank itself, in fact in quarters where one would least expect to find the third party represented at all, there is a strong following.

It must not be forgotten that Cleveland is the headquarters of the railroad brotherhoods who are the head, shoulders and pocketbook of the La Follette movement in this campaign. Workers disappointed in industrial disputes, foreigners of German extraction and radicals of the parlor variety have flocked to the standard of La Follette.

Cleveland is normally Democratic. Here, as in Toledo, La Follette has drawn heavily from the Democrats. He will run second in this county, if not first, as John W. Davis is almost certain to be third. Had McAdoo been nominated, this would have been one of his strongholds, as labor is particularly assertive here.

Ohio Farmers Refuse to Vote For 'Wet'

Reports from other parts of the state indicate that the drift to La Follette in the rural sections has been checked. La Follette is a "wet" and there are farmers in Ohio who wouldn't vote for a "wet," no matter how friendly he is to agriculture. The Republican management has been spreading word throughout the state, too, on the proposal of La Follette to upset the supreme court's power and vest some of it in Congress.

The Ohio farmers are not as radical as those of the west. They haven't reached the point where they will exchange experimentalism for the conditions under which they live today. The west is in much more of a mood as a rule to accept change. Ohio is a Progressive state and has on more than one occasion shown its independence, but the La Follette movement hasn't taken hold in the rural districts of Ohio as it has in some of the agricultural areas of the west.

This means that the Republican party, whose greatest strength is on the farms, will retain proportionately more of its strength in Ohio than is true of western states. La Follette will be third in this state and John W. Davis second, for it looks almost certain that Coolidge will have a tremendous majority in Ohio.

Coolidge to Get More Than Two Combined

Some estimates run as high as 500,000 plurality, but this would appear to be exaggerated. There can be little doubt that President Coolidge will have a majority of the votes cast, namely, that he will have more than La Follette and Davis combined, but there are reasons for a lesser vote this time for a Republican national ticket than in 1920, when Ohio was voting for its favorite son.

So far as electoral votes are concerned, however, the Ohio group of electors may be put down for President Coolidge. Even Democrats are inclined to concede the vote when they speak of having "a fighting chance" in the state.

The gubernatorial race has as usual a bearing on the situation. Two years ago Governor Donahey, Democrat, was elected, notwithstanding the overwhelming Republican victory of 1920. This year Donahey is running for re-election and his Republican opponent is Harry L. Davis, who was elected governor four years ago.

Local issues always enter into a campaign, and there are some people who think Donahey is stronger than he was in 1920, though one hears a great deal about scratched tickets, which would indicate that the state and national tickets are not necessarily of the same strength. Donahey is probably stronger than John W. Davis in this state and may help the latter along. President Coolidge probably is stronger than Harry Davis, who might be assisted into office by the Coolidge vote.

Chain Newspapers Back of La Follette

The Republicans are fairly well organized. The Democrats are campaigning intensively for their ticket, but the La Follette movement has the backing of the Scripps newspapers in Cleveland, Akron, Cincinnati, Columbus and Toledo, which means that the third party will make a good showing numerically in this state. The Scripps papers helped Wilson carry the state in 1916, which tends to corroborate the view that La Follette is drawing most heavily from the Democrats.

Here, as in other states, there is not much real enthusiasm for Coolidge. It doesn't manifest itself as enthusiasm, but rather silent approval. He hasn't been president long enough to really impress his personality on the electorate, but his championship of the cause of conservatism, which means at this moment economy in government and a maintenance of the present status of business, has captured the business men so completely that even Democrats who might ordinarily vote for John W. Davis have been scared by the La Follette movement into casting their ballots for Coolidge. Nearly every straw vote—and there are a number of them being taken in all parts of the state—shows Coolidge ahead by a comfortable margin, and the general trend of the state appears without doubt to be Republican.

Woman Dying, Husband Is Held After Quarrel

SEATTLE, Oct. 21.—Attacked by her infuriated husband during an alleged family quarrel early this morning, Mrs. Daniel Welch, 38, was believed dying in the city hospital today, her throat slashed with a razor. Her 63-year-old husband, a longshoreman, is being held in the city jail on an open charge. At 6 o'clock this morning the frantic woman, battling hand to hand with her husband, succeeded in reaching the telephone where she called the police. When officers arrived, Mrs. Welch had crawled down three flights of stairs and had collapsed on the sidewalk.

Riots In Manila by Filipinos Are Over

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 21.—Following two days of serious rioting between Filipinos and Chinese, during which hundreds of Chinese shops were looted and wrecked, this city was quiet today, but rioting has broken out in several provinces. Nine Chinese were seriously injured by mobs of Filipinos, who looted stores and destroyed the machinery of a Chinese rice mill, in Cabanatuan. In San Pablo many shops have been wrecked. Circulation of reports by native papers that eighty Filipinos had been killed in Shanghai was blamed for the rioting.

Loss Caused by Short Terminal Facilities

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Producers and consumers of the United States suffer a tremendous annual loss because of inadequacy of railroad terminal facilities, Secretary of Commerce Hoover declared today. Congestion in terminal centers is the biggest transportation problem of the day, according to Hoover, who added that railroad consolidations would go far to remove the trouble.

Co-operative associations of California are acting with Secretary Hoover to bring about an improvement of terminal facilities. Hoover said that the California interests are the greatest sufferers from present conditions.

Ruling on Income Tax Reductions Is Made

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Taxpayers may deduct from gross incomes only such amounts as are actually expended for replacement of property each taxable year, the United States board of tax appeals ruled today in an appeal of the case of William J. Ostheimer of Philadelphia, a restaurant keeper.

A lessee of chattels is not authorized to deduct from gross income funds set aside annually for use in replacing property as good as new," upon expiration of the lease, the board decided.

SHIP BLAST TAKES LIVES OF SIX

Explosion on U. S. Trenton Injuring 14 Sailors Was Unavoidable, Claim

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Investigation into the explosion aboard the United States cruiser Trenton, which cost the lives of six naval men and injuries to fourteen others, has already disclosed the fact there was no powder outside the magazine except the two charges which were being hoisted into the gun turret for immediate loading and firing, according to a message received by the navy department this morning from Captain Kalbfus, commanding the cruiser.

Six Dead, Fourteen Hurt

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 21.—Six dead and fourteen injured was the casualty list this morning in the navy's latest peace-time disaster, the premature explosion of firing powder aboard the U. S. S. cruiser Trenton.

Four were killed outright and two frightfully burned, died at the naval hospital soon after being brought in.

The dead: Ensign Henry Clay Drexler, Sussex Beach, Delaware; Roland B. Hanson, soldier, Iowa; Bernard B. Byam, Bristol, Conn; William A. Walker, Mayo, S. C.; George R. Cholister, Merchantsville, N. J.; Bennett Williams, South Easton, Mass.

List of Injured

Two others of the injured are critically burned, and seven others injured so badly their condition is described by naval authorities as "serious," but no more deaths are anticipated, it was said at the naval hospital.

The body of Walker has not been recovered, although the cruiser Raleigh combed the waters off the capes all night. Walker was burned and blown overboard by the force of the explosion, and is believed to have drowned.

Williams died at naval hospital at 5 o'clock this morning. Of those burned, naval hospital authorities say Franklin B. Jeffrey, seaman first class, of Lynn, Mass., and Mervin Franklin, Seattle second class, Brooklyn, N. Y., are in a serious condition and their identification was difficult at first.

Cause Not Determined

The explosion was so terrific that men were knocked down in various parts of the ship.

The cause of the accident, which occurred while a gun crew in the forward turret was preparing to fire a six-inch shell, has not as yet been determined. The charge of the gun was being hoisted and the usual precautions were observed when the explosion took place.

A similar catastrophe is said to have been narrowly avoided abroad the cruiser Concord, a sister ship of the Trenton, last Friday as she was engaged in target practice. In that insance, it is said, a short circuited wire was at fault.

Jewel Theft Suspects Lead to Murder Trail

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Arrest today of four suspects in the jewelry robbery of Mrs. Helen Hayworth, formerly of Chicago, convinced detectives that at last they were definitely on the trail of the murderers and thieves who slew "Dot" King and Louise Lawson, Broadway habitues, and more recently have terrorized fashionable New York with their gem thefts.

Three of the prisoners, police said, have criminal records. One had a ring similar to the diamond and platinum one taken from Mrs. Hayworth when held up by three men in her apartment.

Hoover Plans Session On Rio Grande Project

Secretary Hoover said a similar conference regarding disposition of the water of the Colorado river would be held following the election.

Plan to Construct Airliner Just Two Times ZR-3's Size

AKRON, Ohio, Oct. 21.—The Goodyear-Zeppelin corporation has started work on a design for a Zeppelin to be twice the size of the ZR-3, according today by P. W. Litchfield, vice-president and general manager of the corporation. Actual construction will not be begun until a purchaser has been obtained.

The airship will cost about $3,000,000 equipped for ocean voyages. By November 1, Dr. Karl Arnstein, chief of design for the German Zeppelin works, will arrive in Akron with twelve assistants and start the plans which will call for a Zeppelin of 5,000,000 cubic feet. The ZR-3 has a gas capacity of 2,400,000 feet.

Captain E. A. Lehmann, executive officer of the ZR-3 on its flight, is now in Akron.

YEGGS BRAVE BULLETS TO ROB BANK

Iowa Institution Loses $4000 In Most Daring Holdup In State's History

LITTLE SIOUX, Iowa, Oct. 21.—The Little Sioux Savings bank was robbed of $4,000 this morning in one of the most spectacular raids in the history of Iowa bank robberies. After blasting the safe and snatching four thousand dollars in cash and securities, the four yeggs shot their way through a cordon of armed citizens and escaped in an automobile.

Townfolk were aroused by the blast of the bank vault. Immediately citizens surrounded the bank and poured a terrific fire into the bank building.

Escape Through Bullets

The yeggs for a time answered the fire. After a short lull in the bandits' fire, it was seen from across the street that one man was loading another charge in the safe while three stood guard with drawn revolvers.

Soon another blast rocked the building. The bandits then emerged from the building, and, amid a hail of bullets from the citizens, they opened fire and shot their way through the cordon. No one was injured.

CRAFT ENDS HARD TRIP IN EARLY MORNING

Heavy Fog Prevents Cruiser From Landing Till Sun Drives Away Mist

By WM. G. CAYCE

For International News Service.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 21.—Completing one of the hardest flights it had undertaken since being commissioned, the navy dirigible Shenandoah was again brought to its mooring mast here today, shortly after 11 a. m., successfully ending its flight from Camp Lewis, Wash., from which place it left early last Sunday afternoon.

Sharply at 10:06 the mooring lines of the Shenandoah were cast overboard to 300 bluejackets below and gently it settled on the landing field, 200 yards from its 174-foot mooring mast.

After a few minutes, during which several persons on the Shenandoah came aground, the big ship was lifted approximately 100 feet into the air and, with the sailors at the ends of the mooring ropes, was gently "walked" to the mast where after an hour's tedious work it was tied fast.

Held Aloft by Fog

The giant air cruiser arrived over North Island at 3 a. m. this morning but because of a heavy fog was unable to land and was forced to remain aloft for more than six hours before the sun dissipated the fog bank.

However, as soon as the fog began to scatter under the sun's rays the Shenandoah steered earthward and landed before the helium gas it carries became too heated for it to come down.

While waiting for the fog bank to lift, the Shenandoah cruised easily above San Diego and Vicinity circling the city several times.

Arouse Sleepers

The dull whir of the giant air liner's five Packard motors awoke light sleepers, and thousands of San Diegans dressed hurriedly and rushed to the streets, porches and housetops, only to learn that the fog obscured the big ship from their vision.

However, as the day grew older and the atmosphere cleared, the Shenandoah was plainly visible as it made a final circle over the city before coming to its mast here.

BRINGS NAME OF ADMIRAL INTO OIL SUIT

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—Linking the name of Admiral J. K. Robinson, chief of the engineering bureau of the navy department, in new fraudulent aspersions hurled at former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall and Edward L. Doheny, millionaire oil magnate, in connection with the leasing of valuable naval oil properties, Owen J. Roberts, prominent Philadelphia attorney, and former Senator Atlee Pomerene of Ohio, today launched the first governmental action resulting from the famous Senate oil inquiry.

In terse sentences, Attorney Roberts opened the case for the government, and in his opening remarks he declared that the United States would show, in an effort to bring about the cancellation of contracts and leases between the navy department and the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company, involving the Elk Hills reserve, the documents were issued through fraud and conspiracy.

DR. TRUMAN IN REPORT OF MEET

Glendale Hospital Head Says Seventh-Day Adventists' Conference Success

Dr. A. W. Truman, medical superintendent of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, returned yesterday from Des Moines, Ia., where he had been attending the medical missionary council of the general conference of the Seventh Day Adventists. He left Glendale early in the month, arriving in Des Moines October 10.

The council produced plans for medical extension work to various parts of the world, Dr. Truman said. There were present some of the most prominent men in the denomination, including Elders R. H. Evans, vicepresident of the Far-East division; H. Christian, vice-president of the African division; E. D. Andross, vice-president of the Intra-American division, formerly president of the Pacific Union conference, with headquarters at 603 East Broadway, Glendale, and J. L. McElhaney, now president of this latter conference.

Glendalians at Meet

Other Glendale men in attendance at the conference included J. A. Burden, business manager of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, and B. M. Emerson, secretary-treasurer of the Pacific Union conference.

Many of these visiting vice-presidents from various parts of the world will be in Glendale the latter part of October, Dr. Truman said, when they will inspect the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, after a trip to Los Angeles, where they are expected to gather at a conference on religious and medical work.

The country around Des Moines is in a prosperous condition, Dr. Truman reported, with bumper crops of corn ready for harvesting. Des Moines itself is optimistic, the activity there amounting almost to a boom. This augurs well for a large tourist invasion of Southern California this winter from the Middle West, Dr. Truman said, and should bring the Los Angeles metropolitan area a decided influx of new wealth and settlers.

South African Banker Visits Glendale School

J. T. Oettle, of the National Bank of South Africa, who has spent many years in the Transvaal, was a visitor at the Glendale Avenue Intermediate school yesterday afternoon. Mr. Oettle compared the school system of California with that of the Transvaal, saying the latter is a highly advanced educational system. He seemed very favorably impressed with the school under Norman Whytock's supervision. The principal of the Pretoria schools is a personal friend of Mr. Oettle and he has sent him pictures from every city he has visited on his trip around the world. These postal cards are being mounted in a conspicuous place in order to give the students in the Transvaal a "personally conducted" trip around the world with Mr. Oettle's help.

Fights To Save Husband

MRS. MAX JEROME PHAFF is raising funds in an effort to save the life of her husband, who was arrested by French officers and charged with piracy in connection with the alleged theft of 36,000 cases of whisky from a French steamer off the Canadian coast.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—In France, Max Jerome Phaff, a confessed chief in the international rum ring, operating off of New York, is facing imprisonment and possible execution on the charge of piracy. In New York, his beautiful wife is endeavoring to gather funds and aid to save him.

The charge of piracy was placed against him after the French steamer Mulhouse was stopped off the Canadian coast and robbed of 36,000 cases of whisky.

He was arrested some time later while he was returning to the United States from England and the ship stopped in a French port.

He denied that he was a "pirate" who looted the ship, but he is quoted as saying:

"We don't want any foreigners horning into this business. We just wanted to give these Frenchmen a good lesson."

Mrs. Phaff is steadfast in her belief in his innocence.

"Whatever else my husband might do, he wouldn't steal," she avows.

"I know my husband is honest, and that's all I want to know."

They have a daughter, 5 years old.

STATE LIBRARY IS WELL PATRONIZED

Georgia Institution Sends More Than 10,000 Books Into Rural Districts

ATLANTA, Oct. 21.—"Please send me one book on farming; one on raising children; two on hog raising; also two good novels."

The request came to the Georgia state library commission from a hopeful farmwife in Temple; one request out of several thousand which have been filled through the offices of the commission, aided by a recent $6000 appropriation from the state government. A report just issued shows that more than 10,000 books have been mailed from the capital to readers all over the state during the past year.

Wright Novels Popular

Next to books on poultry raising, novels by Harold Bell Wright are most in demand from men; those by Gene Stratton Porter by women, the report indicates. In almost every case, however, the selection of reading material is left to the judgment of the tireless librarian, Miss Beverly Wheatcroft, who becomes in this way a sort of mentor to a large section of the state.

The commission serves the great rural and small-town districts of the state, supplying every sort of reading material free of all cost to the borrower, except a nominal parcel post charge. Largely due to the influence of these many readers, the legislature has just added another $4000 yearly to its support, beginning January 1,

FRANK C. WELLER

In the death of Mrs. L. C. Yeoman, the Republican party suffers the loss of an enthusiastic supporter. She was a member of the Republican County Central committee.

The Boston Post, the leading Democratic newspaper of New England, calls Chairman Shaver's bluff, and claims the sum of $1,000 which that gentleman offered to pay any one who should disprove the Democratic version of the action of Governor Coolidge during the Boston police strike. The Post gives the facts in connection with that affair and says that the Democratic committee suppressed essential facts in its version issued for political effect.

Candidate Davis has the reputation of being a high-toned American gentleman. We hope that this reputation may survive his association with some of the members of the Ananias family who are his political bed-fellows.

In the campaign of 1896 William J. Bryan persisted in telling the down-trodden farmers of the wheat belt that as long as the wicked Republicans were in power and the gold standard was maintained they could not get any higher prices for the product of their farms. And even while he talked the price of wheat began to climb upward and continued climbing for some time. Brother Charles is having no better luck. It's hard to make the farmers of the middle west believe the prophet of evil while prices are ascending as at present. The attempt to convey the impression that there is a joint control between Providence and the Bryan family is an absolute failure.

There is no "bunk" in this from the Argonaut:

"Labor, in the mass, can ill afford to vote for its own undoing, which will be the case if its representatives, with the aid of the disaffected ones of the country, succeed in installing the Wisconsin man in the White House. They are riding to a hard fall, since a victory for socialism will send capital into hiding, halt prosperity and deprive hundreds of thousands of workers of employment. This is not pre-election buncombe, it is a sober fact. The average radical is seldom or never constructive in his efforts to effect political changes. He may be sincere, he may be honest, but he is so blinded by his objective that he fails to sense the economic dangers to the country that the consummation of his aims entails."

SECRETARIES OF STATE NUMBERED

If Hughes Be Again Selected By Coolidge He Will Not Hold Record

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Even if Calvin Coolidge is re-elected and again selects Charles Evans Hughes as his secretary of state, Hughes still will lag behind two former secretaries of state in the big league "batting average" for all time. Hughes has served under two presidents, Harding and Coolidge, but two of his predecessors—Daniel Webster, of Massachusetts, and James G. Blaine of Maine—have served under three. Webster headed the state department under William Henry Harrison, Tyler and Fillmore, and Blaine, the "Plumed Knight," served under Garfield, Arthur and Benjamin Harrison.

Hughes' period in this respect is worthy of mention, because the fatality rate among heads of the state department is rather high. There have been sixty-nine secretaries of state—beginning with Thomas Jefferson, of Virginia, who took office on March 22, 1790—while there have been only thirty presidents.

Exceptions to Rule

Only Timothy Pickering of Pennsylvania, who served under Washington and Adams; John Forsyth, of Georgia, under Jackson and Van Buren; John M. Clayton, of Delaware, under Taylor and Fillmore; William H. Seward, under Lincoln and Johnson, and John Hay, of the District of Columbia, under McKinley and Roosevelt, have held the office more than once.

While President Polk had only James Buchanan, of Pennsylvania, Lincoln, Seward, Hayes, William M. Evarts, of New York; Garfield Blaine; Cleveland, in his first term, Thomas F. Bayard of Delaware; Taft Philander C. Knox and Harding Hughes, most of the presidents had three or four secretaries of state during their terms. Jackson and Wilson each had five, and John Tyler had seven during his term of office.

New York Leads

Although Virginia has been the "Mother of Presidents," New York can claim the honor of being the "Mother of Secretaries of State," as twelve have come from New York, Virginia gave seven to the cabinet, nearly all in the day of the "Virginia legend," when that state was running the country. Massachusetts has furnished 6; Pennsylvania, 5; Delaware and Ohio, 3, each; Maryland, Louisiana, South Carolina, Michigan Illinois and the District of Columbia, 2 each, and Kentucky, Georgia, Maine, New Jersey, Indiana and Nebraska, 1 each. As with our presidents, none of our secretaries of state has ever come from west of the Mississippi river except William Jennings Bryan, then a resident of Nebraska, but since migrated to Florida.

Few Reach White House

That the state department is not a ready stepping stone to the presidency is seen from the fact that only six secretaries of state—Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, John Quincy Adams, Van Buren and Buchanan—ever became president, although many of the sixty-nine, including Henry Clay, John C. Calhoun, Edward Everett, Elihu Root, Bryan, Blaine, John Sherman, of Ohio, and Hughes have either tried or been considered as presidential possibilities.

Old Dobin Deputized As Prohibition Agent

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 21.—Old Dobbin has been deputized as a prohibition agent. When dry officials spied a wary-eyed individual driving a horse attached to a spring wagon down a narrow, wooded lane, they had a hunch, and, removing several thirty-gallon jugs of moonshine, they gave old Dobbin "his head." He went straight home, and there another arrest was made and two stills confiscated.

"Now I know what 'horse sense' is," said one dry agent.

By Southland News Service.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—The suit of Mrs. Charlotte Lex in which she asks $50,000 as damages against Chief of Police August Vollmer of Berkeley, alleging breach of a marriage promise was today ordered transferred to the northern city for trial. The suit was filed after Vollmer resigned as chief of the Los Angeles police department and re-established his residence in Berkeley, the court decreed.

An autopsy was conducted today in an effort to determine whether Mrs. Rose I. Bailey, 65, died from natural causes or as the result of being struck on the head with a cuspidor during a fight on a railroad train. Mrs. Bailey was en route to Los Angeles from Portland when an aged man suddenly ran amuck. During an attempt by trainmen to subdue him, the man threw the cuspidor. At first, it was not believed Mrs. Bailey was severely injured and she was taken to her home in a motor car. She died suddenly early today, twenty-four hours after the fracas

Forcing their way into a drug store early today, two masked bandits held up R. W. Bernard, the proprietor, four of his employes and a night watchman and after locking them in a rear room, escaped with loot consisting of $200 in cash and a diamond ring valued at $1,000. The five men were imprisoned in the store for an hour after the raiders had departed.

Marty Krug, manager of the Los Angeles ball club, was presented with a $500 check, and each member of the team a $100 bill by J. H. Patrick, president of the Angels, which materially showed his appreciation for their remarkable recent performances.

B. R. Sims on Stand In Damage Suit Against Chief J. D. Fraser

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—B. R. Sims, former operator of a private patrol, remained on the witness stand at noon today under the cross-examination of Attorney Mattison B. Jones, representing Col. John D. Fraser, Glendale police chief, who is being sued for $20,000 alleged damages as the result of Sims losing his license to do business.

Sims yesterday afternoon told his story, how he had seemingly been harassed by Chief Fraser and finally arrested. His case was dismissed when he obtained Attorney G. H. King to defend him.

Long Questioning

Judge Lightfoot, plaintiff's counsel, questioned him at length regarding conversations with the chief, which Attorney Jones followed up in an exhaustive quiz today.

Several Glendale police officers and former members of the force and other Glendale citizens are being held to testify for both sides.

Chief Fraser this morning stated that his story of the trouble Sims caused him "would fill a book."

SCOUTS GIVEN BUDGET FOR NEW YEAR

Two Part-Time Assistants, Office Help to Be Added, Fall Plans Made

Sanction by the executive board of the Glendale Boy Scout organization of a budget of $8966 for the year, beginning next January 1, was announced today. The money will permit of the employment of two part-time assistants and office help for Harvey R. Cheesman, local Scout executive. The budget is less than that of last year, due, it is said, to the efficient leadership and management of Mr. Cheesman. Under his direction the organization has grown within a year from nine to thirty troops. The budget comes under the community chest movement.

In beginning the work for the fall Mr. Cheesman has assembled scoutmasters into a demonstration troop of "Men Scouts." The first meeting was held last night in the First Congregational church at which Mr. Cheesman was chosen Scoutmaster; Lewis Wilson, assistant scoutmaster; W. L. Walker, senior patrol leader; Irvin R. Grose, scribe; Major C. L. Wyman, chairman of troop committee; R. L. McCourt, head of Beaver patrol; Hal E. Leedom, head of Wolf patol; Dr. Warren Z. Plans were made for a camping outing Friday and Saturday at the mouth of Big Tujunga canyon. Scouts will leave the Harvard High school at 4:30 o'clock Friday afternoon and return Saturday evening. The scoutmasters will accompany, returning Saturday morning. Mr. Cheesman will have charge of the camp Saturday.

Mr. Cheesman announced the council has purchased fifty small tents, and army mattress bags for the boys to use when camping.

Plans are underway for the annual fall Scout roundup Saturday, November 1, at La Crescenta Woodlands, on the G. Benjamin Robison ranch. The program will include picnic lunch with parents at 5:30 o'clock and campfire with yells, songs, stunts and stories, 7 o'clock. Each Scout will be accompanied by his parents or some other adult. GUESTS AT C. OF C. FORUM HEAR DEVELOPMENT PLANS

Assistant Engineer of Los Angeles Presents Situation; Varied Program by Women of Tuesday Club Proves Big Success

Declaring that Los Angeles county will have a population of more than 3,000,000 in 1960; that Los Angeles city will have approximately 1,750,000 in 1940 and a proportionate growth in Glendale, A. Beck, assistant city water department engineer, of Los Angeles, gave facts and figures at the second monthly forum dinner of the Chamber of Commerce last night which seemed to show that the water situation in the metropolitan district of Los Angeles is serious.

The dinner was in the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, with the members of that club as hostesses. Mrs. A. H. Montgomery is president of the organization; Mrs. Daniel Campbell, chairman of the evening; Mrs. Homer Lockwood, chairman of banquet and reception. D. H. Smith, acting president of the Chamber of Commerce, presided at the dinner, and introduced Mrs. Campbell, who welcomed the men to an affair presided over by women, and commented on the broadmindedness of men in accepting the position women hold in public affairs today.

After the singing of "America, the Beautiful," and invocation by Rev. W. E. Edmonds of the First Presbyterian church, Mayor Spencer Robinson was introduced. The mayor did not make an address.

Number Introduced

Tables had been reserved for officers of twenty-two civic organizations of the city, Glendale Realty board and Chamber of Commerce directors, and Mrs. Campbell introduced a large number of these, as well as others, to the guests. Among those introduced at this time were A. L. Baird, president of the Kiwanis club and Community Service, and wife; Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Toll; J. H. Smith, president of the Rotary club, and wife; Myrtle A. Baldwin, second vice-president, Glendale Music club; Mrs. Mary Austin Ryan, president Parent-Teacher association; A. T. Cowan, publisher of The Glendale Evening News, and son, Waldo Cowan; Mr. and Mrs. W. Hopkins; Mrs. Florence Parker; Mrs. H. R. Boyer, wife of the president of the Optimist club; Mrs. Elizabeth Hopkins, soloist; Mr. and Mrs. Earle C. Pendroy; Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Wilson; Mr and Mrs. Peter Hanson.

Presents Assistants

The introductions were followed by the realtors' yell; then Mrs Campbell called Mrs. Homer Lockwood to the speakers' table and presented her seventeen assistants who had prepared the banquet. The president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, was introduced, after which radio KTAC was heard in an explanation of the community chest drive to start on November 17. Aunt Sally was the radio speaker. S. C. Haight, director of the Community Chest drive, was introduced.

Mrs. Roy Jones, president of several women's organizations in Los Angeles and an officer of the federation of women's clubs, also heading a committee to oppose the petition of the Southern California Telephone Co. for a raise in rates, explained the object of her committee; why they were opposed to the raise in rates, metered service, zone system, extension of toll districts, etc., saying the granting of the petition by the California state railroad commission would mean a rate increase of $15,000,000 annually.

Submits Figures

Mr. and Mrs. Paige of Los Angeles, co-workers of Mrs. Jones, were introduced, and Mr. Paige gave figures on the telephone situation, saying a business phone having thirty-six outgoing calls per day would cost $25.20 a day; residence telephones would cost $21 more per year, and ordinary business telephones $43 more each year. He denounced the various parent companies of the Southern California Co. and what he claimed were unfair tactics of the New York holding concerns.

At the conclusion of Mr. Paige's remarks, Fred Deal, Glendale district manager of the Southern California Telephone Co., asked permission to speak, and gave figures which, he said, corrected part of Mr. Paige's statements.

At this point Dr. Henry R. Harrower arose and denounced the telephone company, its management, tactics, etc., accusing it of "trying to put over a dirty deal." Mrs. Campbell interrupted, and asked that no personal differences be aired.

As Mrs. Frank Arnold was ill, Mrs. Elizabeth Mottern sang a solo in place of the duet scheduled by these two women.

Assistant Speaks

Mrs. Campbell apologized for the absence of William Mulholland, chief engineer of the Los Angeles water department, who was expected to speak, and introduced Mr. Phillips, an assistant to Mr. Mulholland for the past twelve years.

Mr. Phillips gave many figures on the water situation in the metropolitan district of Los An-

ARE YOU A CAPITALIST?

Did you ever stop to think of that?

The word "Capitalist" refers to one who has wealth.

Wealth does not always refer to money or to worldly goods.

Good health is wealth and so also is sound mind.

Good health and keen intellect are sometimes more valuable than gold.

If you have good health and a workable brain you are a capitalist.

A capitalist mixes good health and brains to accumulate material wealth.

Are you using your capital for this purpose?

The staunch oak grows from the tiny acorn.

From small beginnings great fortunes have grown.

This bank has watched with keen interest the efforts of a great many people who have used their capital. Will you let our experience be of service to you?

Daily Greeting To News Readers

NOTHING IS EASIER—
Than finding a fault in a friend.
Than criticising the government.
Than starting a scandalous story.
Than drifting with the crowd.
Than making cowardice look like expediency.
Than blaming our misfortunes on others.
Than holding our acquaintances under suspicion.

ELECTION ALTERNATIVE DANGEROUS

There is much discussion of the possibility of the election of a president being thrown into the House of Representatives, and much speculation as to the result of such a contingency. This alternative to an election in the electoral college is entirely constitutional, but is extremely dangerous as the Kansas City Star points out.

In the first place, the country might be left without a president-elect until the very day specified for his induction into office. The political division in the House of Representatives is such that a deadlock would be probable. The House would vote by states, each state casting one vote and twenty-five states would constitute the majority necessary to a choice. Neither the Republicans nor the Democrats are sure of twenty-five states in the House, and that body might ballot from next December, when it re-convenes, until March 4, when it ceases to exist, without making a choice.

"It is apparent that such a deadlock would have the most disastrous results," says the Star. "The whole country would be in a turmoil of doubt, indecision and apprehension. Business and industry would suffer, legislation would be halted and government would be at a standstill.

"A vote either for La Follette or for a trailing candidate is a vote to transfer the election to Congress and leave the presidential succession in doubt until next March. A vote for the leading candidate is, therefore, the only vote sure to count for a decision in the regular way. The candidate clearly in the lead—and this month is sure to indicate with reasonable certainty which candidate that is—will appeal to every American who wishes to rebuke political guerrilla warfare waged only to clog the wheels of government and turn a presidential election into a sniping contest in Congress."

SUICIDE AMONG THE YOUNG

Suicides among the young are all too frequent. News reports state that a 16-year-old girl in Berkeley took her life the other day because her mother told her to hurry and dress for school. Some children are being allowed to grow up without discipline of any kind, and the least attempt of their elders to correct or direct them is regarded as an infringement of their sacred rights.

An exchange says that the streets, sex literature and the movies are the real educational forces at work on the young today, and it is true that these influences have too large a place in the lives of the boys and girls. The trouble is that children are not being taught the real meaning of life. They seem to think the whole purpose of existence is to have a good time, and when the tinsel becomes tarnished, and the novelty of the theatre, the dance and the motor party has worn off, there is nothing left to live for.

Young people are to be pitied and not blamed if life is made so soft for them that it seems a tragedy to have to miss the movies or go to school. The parent who fails to train a child for the business of life has neglected an important parental duty. A life without purpose other than to amuse itself is miserable and pitiable, and suicide is its natural end. Young people need guidance in their work and direction in their play and they must be taught to maintain a proper balance between work and play. They must learn the meaning of life and learn to know themselves if they are to be happy and useful in the world.

AN APOSTLE OF PROGRESS

The news of the death of Frank Wiggins, veteran secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce was read with regret by thousands of people who know of the man and what he has achieved for Southern California. As an official of the organization whose pre-eminent purpose is to advertise and advance the interests of Los Angeles, and consequently of its surroundings, Mr. Wiggins' services were of peculiar value and interest. He was host, ex-officio, to the many thousands of tourists who visited Southern California yearly, and his personality, his enthusiasm and his versatility as well as his long years of service in this work made him popular.

Mr. Wiggins might have held positions that would have brought him much greater personal aggrandizement in return for the effort expended. Had he served as well in politics he would have won more honor. Had he been a general in the army his demise would have been of nation-wide interest. But, how much greater was his contribution to humanity, serving, as he did, the interests of peace, progress and prosperity for thirty-five years. A bust of Mr. Wiggins will grace the new Chamber of Commerce building in Los Angeles, but a more notable monument to him is the progress made by the Southland in the last thirty-five years.

GREAT FUTURE FOR PIRATES

There are said to be large profits in rum-running and bootlegging, but those who engage in this business have learned that there is one very material disadvantage involved in the trade. While they are disregarding and defying the law they cannot invoke the protection of the law. It must be extremely exasperating for rum runners to have their vessels boarded and the cargo appropriated by pirates, or to have the stuff stolen after it has been landed, and not be able to do anything about it.

Those who contemplate taking up bootlegging or rum smuggling should stop and think. Piracy is just as respectable and offers greater returns with less outlay. Why pay high prices for the stuff in foreign markets when you can steal it? And, the consumer doesn't give a hang whether he gets it directly from the rum runner or from someone who stole it from him.

Rum piracy is only in its infancy. Undoubtedly it holds out great opportunities to the adventurous.

ABSENT-MINDEDNESS A CURSE

Absent-mindedness is one of the curses of the human race. "I didn't think," is responsible for so many of the accidents and so much of the trouble and heartache in the world. Taking thought should be a simple process, but it is one we often fail to employ as we should. We never use our brains to their full capacity and so often fail to think clearly and reasonably about the matter in hand. Our bodies are subject to direction from our brains and cannot be expected to function efficiently unless properly directed. Absent-mindedness can be overcome by carefully taking thought of each matter that comes to one's attention.

The Foundation of Faith

By DR. FRANK CRANE

There has been a good deal of discussion recently, especially in England, on the foundation of faith.

Some people seem to think that the progress of science has taken away some of the supports of their faith. One by one superstitions and gratuitous imaginings have had to be given up. It is supposed that faith rests upon these. As a matter of fact, faith is merely the projection of our mind from what we do know into what we do not know. The realm of what we do not know is always infinite; while the realm of what we do know is finite.

No matter how far out we push the boundaries of science, of exact knowledge, it must always reveal to the candid mind how great is the extent of what we do not know.

Carlyle speaks of the great sea of nescience, on which all our science floats as a mere superficial film.

A good analogy is, this earth and the rest of the planets. Naturally our experience cannot extend beyond the earth and yet we know that all around us are the infinite heavens. What the heavens are to the earth, so is the volume of what we do not know to what we know.

Instead of the progress of science undermining the foundations of faith, it is establishing them.

The proof of the origin of the universe by some divine power and the proof of the existence of that power at the present time does not consist of fairy stories but it is found in the limitations of our wisdom.

As our knowledge will always have limits, so our faith, which goes beyond those limits, must always have something to rest upon.

When David wrote: "When I consider Thy heavens, the work of Thy fingers, what is Man that Thou art mindful of him?" His knowledge of the heavens was considerably less than ours, but the intelligent scientist of today regards, with just as much awe, the surrounding universe because of his more exact knowledge of what he does know.

Horoscope

Malefic aspects rule today, according to astrology. Venus, Jupiter and Saturn are all adverse.

There is certainty in a sign indicating a sex war in business where men will seek to replace women in good positions.

While this configuration prevails it is wise for women to conserve their energies, remembering that they can succeed in their ambitions best when they have the inspiration of friendly stars.

This is read as a most unlucky sway for lovers who may find all material hopes fade and suffer serious financial drawbacks.

It will be wise not to risk anything in the way of opening new plays while this rule prevails.

Jupiter is in a place most forbidding to merchants and manufacturers.

Bankers are still subject to a direction of the stars that adds to their power, while it antagonizes the people of many lands.

The seers prophesy that the rulers of the earth will be the men who control its gold and Americans will lead all others.

According to a recent prognostication there is some one stronger than any emperor, who never parades the symbols of his power.

This week may prove tiresome, because there may be a nervous excitement due to the aspects, which is difficult to control.

Irritability and even bad temper may be encouraged by this day's aspects.

This is not a lucky wedding day, for, although love may come, riches will tarry under this direction of the stars.

Persons whose birth date it is may meet with many surprising experiences in the coming year. They should look out for losses and beware of false friends.

Children born on this day may be often in difficulties, for these subjects of Libra with Scorpio traits are quick-witted, venturesome and fond of change. They should be successful with wise training.

WHY SKY IS BLUE

A theory that the sky is given its blue color by a layer of frozen nitrogen surrounding the earth's atmosphere has been advanced by a French scientist.

India, with an area half that of the United States, now has a population three times that of this country.

Today's Poem

OCTOBER

Baths of sunny haze
Steeping the riped leaves from day to day,
And dainty kisses of the frost at night,
Joined in the subtle alchemy that wrought
Such miracles of change, that myriad trees
Which pranked the meads and clothed the forest glooms
Bloomed with the tints of Eden. Had the earth
Been splashed with blood of grapes from every clime,
Tinted with topaz to dim carbuncle,
Or orient ruby, it would not have been
Drenched with such waste of color. All the hues
The rainbow knows, and all that meet the eye
In flowers of field and garden, joined to tell
Each tree's close-folded secret. Side by side
Rose sister maples, some in amber gold,
Others incarnadine or tipped with flame;
And oaks that for a hundred years had stood,
And flouted one another through the storms—
Boasting their might—proclaimed their pique or pride
In dun, or dyes of Tyre. The sunset leaves
Blazed with such scarlet that the crimson fruit
Which hung among their flames was touched to guise
Of dim and dying embers; while the hills
That met the sky at the horizon's rim—
Dabbled with rose among the evergreens,
Or stretching off in streaks of clouted crimson—glowed
As if the archery of sunset clouds,
By squads and fierce batallions, had rained down
Its barbed and feathered fire, and let it fast
To advertise the exploit.

INVENTS STEAM MOTORS

Using heavy oil for fuel, an Englishman has invented a steam motor for airplanes and dirigible balloons to avoid the danger of fire.

An Australian has invented an airplane camera with which he has made oblique photographs while flying at a speed of 126 miles an hour.

Who's Who

The man frequently referred to as England's foremost liberal leader, Sir John Simon, is prominently mentioned among those talked of to succeed Ramsay McDonald as premier of Great Britain when the Ramsay government steps out.

Were ex-Premier Asquith a bit younger his name would once more lead the list, but his advanced years make him politically ineligible, critics agree.

Sir John has been identified with British policies since 1906, when he became a liberal member of Parliament from Walthamstow division, Essex. In 1910 he was named solicitor general. Three years later he was made attorney general with a seat in the cabinet. In 1915 he was appointed secretary of state for home affairs. A year later he forsook the civilian ranks to serve as a major in the royal air force, seeing active service on the French front.

He is 51. He was born on February 28, 1873, and was knighted by the king in 1910. For many years he has been standing counsel for Oxford university.

Smiles

IT'S POSSIBLE

Great laughter was produced at a dinner gathering of the more or less authentic literati when a bon mot of one of the authentic fishermen was repeated. A reporter from Boston had hailed the fisherman for information.

"Do you think that Miss So-and-so," naming a woman whose account of her struggle out of the clutches of darkness had just been published and highly paid for—"can see me?"

"Dunno," said the fisherman. "She can if she ain't too drunk."

BOTH ALIKE

Harry L. Foster, author of travel books, was once traveling in South America and chummed up a bull fighter on the boat from Panama to Peru.

"I am a great writer," Foster confessed to the gentleman, who had announced himself as the foremost of toreadors.

"But, surely, do great writers travel third class?" asked the Spaniard.

"I explained," says Mr. Foster, "that nothing I had written had ever been published."

"Ah, the senor is like me. I have never killed ze bull."

Making Presidents

By H. Irving King

IN 1880

The presidential campaign of 1880 was a quiet affair waged between two gentlemen universally respected. The bitter fight was in the Republican convention between the Grant forces, led by Roscoe Conkling, and the friends of James G. Blaine. Grant had made his tour of the world and had been received upon his return home with great enthusiasm. His friends had persuaded him to run for a third term though it was against all the traditions of the Republic. Blaine was the logical Republican candidate. Conkling and Blaine hated each other, personally and politically. When the Republican convention had been a week in session balloting began, and lasted for two days. Finally, on the thirty-sixty ballot, James A. Garfield of Ohio was nominated by a break of the Blaine forces in his favor. The Grant ranks remained unbroken. He began with 304 votes and ended with 806. Chester A. Arthur of New York, a Conkling man, was nominated for the vice presidency.

With the possible exception of John Quincy Adams and Woodrow Wilson, Garfield was the most scholarly man who ever occupied the presidential chair. He had been a college professor and president; had won distinction and promotion as a commander in the Civil war and at the time of his nomination, was Congressman and Senator-elect from his state.

The Democrats nominated for president Winfield S. Hancock, "Hancock the Superb," who was generally regarded as next after Grant, Sherman and Sheridan the greatest general produced by the Civil war. A graduate of West Point, Hancock's life had been essentially that of a soldier. Of politics he had no experience and little knowledge. He was still in active military service and in command of a military department. But even a military man is human; and when politicians beseech him to accept a presidential nomination has—with the exception of General Sherman—never been known to refuse.

The National Greenback party nominated for president James B. Weaver of Iowa, who had been a brigadier in the Civil war and was then a member of Congress. The Prohibitionists nominated Neal Dow and A. H. Thompson of Ohio. Dow was the father of the famous "Maine law" which had made that state "dry." An attempt was made to revive the old anti-Mason and the American parties in the shape of one organization. They met and nominated John W. Phelps of Vermont for president and Samuel C. Pomeroy of Kansas for vice president—and were not heard of thereafter.

At the election Garfield received of the popular vote 4,454,416; Hancock 4,444,925; Weaver 308,578 and Dow 10,305. Garfield had 214 electoral votes to Hancock's 155. The other candidates had no electoral votes at all. Garfield was shot by an assassin four months after his inauguration and died about two months later from his wound. He was the fourth president to die in office and the second to be assassinated.

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Without showing signs of general weakness today, the stock market was erratic and irregular in many sections of the speculative list. In their search for weak spots the bears turned from one group of stocks to another, meeting scant success with the high-priced industrial leaders, but forcing declines elsewhere in the list. In sharp contrast, a number of popular railroad and industrial stocks were the leaders in new forward movements.

After forcing Bethlehem Steel down to a new low at 395⅛, the bears turned their attention to American Woolen, which sold down two points, at 54¾. With the Cast Iron Pipe dividend case as a possible precedent, Southern Railway was sold down almost two points on reports that preferred stockholders would vigorously push their suit to recover $22,900,000 in back dividends claimed to be due them before dividends can be paid on the common stock. Other New Jersey corporations which might similarly be affected are American Ice and American Car & Foundry, American Shipbuilding, Pressed Steel Car, International Nickel, etc.

The persistent advance of the low-priced railroad stocks which are believed to be "close to dividends" was the most impressive feature of an otherwise dull, featureless session. The list included St. Louis & San Francisco common, the leader of this group today; Rock Island, Kansas City Southern, Pittsburgh & West Virginia, New Haven, Erie, Katy preferred, Missouri Pacific preferred, Texas & Pacific, Wabash preferred, and others.

The oil stocks, though unable to continue their upward movement, held their ground today, as reports of conditions within the oil industry were distinctly favorable. So great has been the demand for fuel oil in recent months that some of the large refiners have found it more profitable to turn their crude oil into these channels than to "rack" it for larger gasoline production. Meanwhile, "gas" consumption is increasing and storage supplies are being drawn on.

Equipment stocks made better response today to the influence of new orders for cars and locomotives into the principal manufacturing concerns, like Baldwin, American Car & Foundry, Lima Locomotive Works, New York Air Brake Co., etc. Corn Products led the low-priced industrials, and was joined in the late trading by Mallison Silk, American Ice, Industrial Alcohol, General Petroleum, Marine preferred, Famous Players and other popular industrial stocks in a moderate rally in which gains in the maximum of three points were made.

Sales today, 866,700 shares; bonds, $13,194,000.

Clocks of the country may be automatically set by radio if tests now being made by the U. S. Bureau of Standards prove that the plan is feasible.

L. A. EXCHANGE

By Southland News Service

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—Holly Development stock continued the feature of trading on the Los Angeles stock exchange today, holding at $1.20, with one little slip throughout the morning's activity.

In the oils, General Petroleum showed an eighth gain, selling up to $4.50, while Julian preferred was quiet at $13.25.

Mines were dull with but three small sales.

In the bonds the Santa Monica Home Telephone company was a leader in selling with a scattered list of light sales.

FINANCIAL BRIEFS

By Southland News Service

Excellent grain and cotton weather is reported today.

Gasoline has been advanced a quarter cent by Northwestern Pennsylvania refiners.

Clothing people expect to see staple cotton selling at 25 to 26 cents a pound between December 1 and 30, according to this morning's advices received by E. F. Hutton & Co.

While the house of Morgan is arranging for a French loan in the United States Poland also estimates its need of upwards $50,000,000 for which it offers a blanket mortgage on Polish industries.

Politics continue the dominating factor on the exchanges of the country, although all authorities outside of campaign managers conceded that the odds are all for Coolidge's re-election.

Varied Program Proves Big Success; Water Problem Under Discussion

geles, and said the water supply is limited.

"The future growth of Los Angeles depends on the adjacent communities, of which Glendale is one of the largest and fastest growing; growth depends primarily on water supply, and this water supply must be increased immediately," declared Mr. Phillips.

Giving figures from the report of a board of engineers and taking the average increase as a guide, Mr. Phillips said Los Angeles now has a population of 925,000; will have 1,750,000 in 1940; 2,220,000 in 1950; 2,500,000 in 1960, and the county over 3,000,000 the latter year.

"At this assumed growth the water supply of the Los Angeles district will be exhausted in 1940, but this situation can be remedied by the building of another aqueduct from the Owens river, Colorado river or the Pomona basin," declared Mr. Phillips. He said $6,000,000 would be required to bring Pomona basin water here and the building of an eleven-mile tunnel. He went on to say that even another aqueduct would only supply water for thirty-five more years, and explained a plan whereby an assessment district will be formed, probably by act of the legislature next year, to meet the expense of bringing Colorado river water here, which he thought was the best solution of the matter.

Pendroy's Fashion Show

A fashion show followed, with a model from Pendroy's displaying women's clothing and a man from Robinson's Men's shop displaying the latest for men.

Homer I. Wood, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, spoke of the work being done by the forum dinners, and that they would continue until twenty-two civic organizations had acted as hosts. He commented on the large attendance last night, over 300 being present, and complimented the members of the Tuesday Afternoon club. Lawrence Grady, assistant secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and his wife were introduced.

George Orgibet and wife were introduced, and Mr. Orgibet told of some of the plans of the Greater Glendale luncheon club, and called attention to the meeting Thursday at Masonic temple.

The audience was then asked to stand for a few moments, in respect to the memory of Frank Wiggins, late secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Urged to Vote

After urging a vote for Coolidge, and hearing a poem entitled "Come Out and Vote," over radio GTAC, Mrs. Campbell introduced the operators of the imaginary radio, Mrs. Max Green and Mrs. T. C. Young.

Mrs. E. E. Leighton spoke on art, and called attention to the paintings by Benjamin Brown of Pasadena, displayed on the clubhouse walls. She urged the formation of an art committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the setting aside of a place for art exhibits in Glendale. She was loudly applauded when she suggested the building of a civic center as one of Glendale's best assets.

A vote of thanks was given Mrs. A. A. Barton member of the Tuesday club, who had donated the flowers used for decorating the table, from her garden.

The concluding address was to have been given by Mrs. Florence Dobinson, of the Dobinson Players, but, as she is ill, Miss Gertrude Terry, who assumes the part of the "Country Cousin" in the play, spoke in her place. Miss Terry said the aim of Mrs. Dobinson is to build in Glendale a permanent theatre for the showing of clean drama; one that will be a monument for Glendale and dramatic art. She spoke of the work of the Dobinson players and her own rendition of the country cousin character; also announced the next play will be "Turn to the Right."

The program closed with benediction by Rev. Edmonds.

America now has 5,000,000 radio receiving sets in regular use.

ATHLETIC CLUB PLANS BUILDING

Local Women's Club Making Ambitious Start Although Only 2 Months Old

Women's Athletic club of Glendale is making an ambitious beginning, for, although only two months old, tentative plans are under way for the establishment of a building fund, the nucleus for which will be the result of a benefit bridge party to be given at an early date at the home of Mrs. W. W. Worley, 1560 Grand View avenue. Announcement of the affair was made last night at the club's picnic dinner at the Sunset Canyon Country club.

Motoring to the club late in the afternoon, members enjoyed golf and other sports. There were fifty present for the dinner, arranged by Mrs. N. C. Paine, assisted by Mesdames A. W. Gregg, Helen F. Ward, Pearl Graves and Virginia Farr. After dinner the club members motored back to Glendale, to the Harvard High school, where a business meeting was held, with Mrs. J. H. Toal, president, presiding. Thirty applications for membership were read by Mrs. Paul E. Webb. These applications will be voted on at the board of directors' meeting next Monday night, at the same place. Mrs. N. C. Paine was appointed chairman of the times and places of the monthly club meetings.

Hiking Trip Sunday

The regular gymnasium work was held from 7 till 9 o'clock. Announcement was made that the class will have a Halloween costume and mask party next Monday night at the Harvard High school.

Hiking trips will be begun next Sunday, when a party will hike to Santa Anita canyon, as far as Roberts' camp. Hikers will meet at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Toal, corner of Colorado street street and Columbus avenue, bringing lunch. Those desiring transportation are to call Mrs. Toal at Glendale 2128M.

The golf group meets today, and the tennis group will meet at the regular time and place tomorrow.

Fashion Center Opens Dress Sale Tomorrow

The Fashion Center, Inc., 202 South Brand boulevard, will stage what the management considers the biggest dress event of the season, tomorrow, when 300 silk and wool dresses will go on sale at $12.95 each. The dresses include models selected for the sale by M J. McKinnon, member of the firm, while on a buying trip in New York recently.

In an interview with a representative of The Glendale Evening News this morning Mr. McKinnon stated that dresses in the sale will include all of the late styles, tunic, mandarin, basque and straight line models, fashioned in new shades and materials. Some of the new materials this fall, he said, are: Bengaline, hand-embroidered crepes, crepe satin, flat crepe, and crepe satin in silks. Materials for woolen dresses used are poiret twill, charmion and flannel. The silk dresses are trimmed with laces, metallic braid, embroidery, fur and contrasting materials while the woolen dresses are trimmed with leather, lace, wool embroidery and buttons.

Mr. McKinnon stated that a large store in San Francisco recently staged a similar dress sale and 1000 dresses were sold in one day. Tonight from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock a fashion show will be held in the windows at The Fashion Center. Dresses to go on sale tomorrow will be exhibited by models from a Hollywood studio. The sale starts at 8:30 o'clock.

James W. Pearson, secretary of the Glendale Realty board, has composed the following song, sung to the tune of "Ruben, Ruben, I've Been Thinking," which he has dedicated to the Realty board and will be sung for the first time at the luncheon tomorrow.

Glendale, Glendale, California
Fairest city of the west.
She will stand a close inspection,

Giving wealth and health alike.
Come and cast your lot with us,
And you'll make a lucky strike.

Glendale, Glendale, California
Building permits soar and soar.
Give us just a few more years,
And we'll lead the country o'er.

Glendale, Glendale, city clean.
Pretty bungalows by the score.
City of homes and the home city,
You will love it more and more.

Glendale, Glendale, busy city
Banks and stores and busy marts.
Ranks with the best that you can find,
Growing by leaps and bounds and starts.

Glendale, Glendale, schools and churches
Pride of every resident here.
Lend enchantment to ensemble
And getting better every year.

Glendale, Glendale, clubs and lodges
Full of life and full of pep.
Make every one a fullfledged worker
To live up to it and keep in step.

FROM EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK, Oct. 21.—The local offensive in the drive to put $2,500,000 in the Los Angeles Community Chest has been placed in charge of H. G. Warren, well known in realty circles here. Mr. Warren has been commissioned a major by Arthur E. Cresse, colonel, whose supervision extends over the five friendly valleys.

Mr. Warren has appointed ten captains under him and each captain has appointed ten lieutenants, he states. The drive will open November 10 and continue ten days.

A Missionary society has been organized by the women of the Presbyterian church, states Mrs. F. R. Pargelles, at whose home on Ridgeway avenue the organization meeting was held. The society will meet at the homes of the younger married women and children will be welcome to attend.

The Arts and Crafts section of the Women's Twentieth Century club is making an effort to gather a large enough group of women to make worth while the securing of Miss Letta Horlacher as instructor. The studio pilgrimages begin December 6, and promise to be interesting and instructive.

At the regular meet of the Parent-Teacher association last week Mrs. Harold Ide Cruzan spoke on the "Responsibility of the Home in the Training of the Child."

At a recent meeting at the home of Marjorie Wilder, on Hill drive, officers of Mrs. Alvin C. Hamer's Music club were elected as follows: Frances Baily, president; Buell Hunt, secretary; Corwin Hunt, treasurer; Marjory Wilder, chairman program.

The next meeting will be on the first Saturday in November, at the home of Frances Baily, on Maywood avenue.

Colonel Maxson, father of H. H. Maxson, director of the Chamber of Commerce, has been asked to take charge of the Republican headquarters opened in the Schumacher building on Colorado boulevard.

Teachers Plan Meet In Baptist Church Tonight

Teachers' training school class meeting, scheduled for tonight at the First Baptist church at 7:30 o'clock, will be in charge of Mrs. Arthur Sisley. The school opened two weeks ago, and will continue for four weeks longer. Miss Alice Jacobs of Los Angeles conducted the school last week. Approximately eighty-five people have been attending.

HELP FOR OLD FOLKS

Old Age Should Be Happy—Not a Time of Sickness and Suffering.

Too many people begin to suffer at middle age with constant backache, urinary ills and rheumatic pains and aches. Weak kidneys are usually the cause and, if neglected, there is danger of hardened arteries, dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease. Help your weakened kidneys with a stimulant diuretic before kidney disease gets a firm hold! Use Doan's Pills. Thousands of old folks recommend Doan's.

Here is Glendale proof:

Mrs. I. C. Wasson, 623 Acacia St., says: "My back was so lame and weak that there wasn't much I could do about the house. The least task tired me and many times I had to sit down and rest. Bearing down pains across my kidneys were continual. Headaches and dizzy spells were also frequent when colored spots floated before my eyes, blurring my sight. My kidneys did not act properly and I felt run down and all out of sorts. However, after using Doan's Pills from Robert & Echol's Drug Store, all trouble left me and I felt better in every way."

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, Oct. 21.—This city now has sixty miles of paved streets completed, thirty miles under construction and enough planned to bring the total to well over 100 miles by spring, according to A. J. Rose, city engineer. Practically all of the streets above San Fernando boulevard excepting portions of Sunset Canyon drive and San Jose avenue and possibly a few short streets, he states, have either been paved or are in the process of paving.

In order to arouse interest in the $480,000 school bond issue up to local voters on October 29, Superintendent L. F. Collins of the Burbank city schools is attempting to organize the entire voting population in support of the issue, through the Parent-Teacher associations of the various schools.

Each home has been visited and the voters have been told of the need for the bonds. When this need was explained to the people, states Mr. Collins, nearly all were in favor of the bonds.

Last night the Glendale Community chorus sang at the High school auditorium, under the auspices of the Burbank Choral club. There were eighty voices in the chorus and the program was enthusiastically received.

Mrs. G. Logue and daughter, Blair, of Oakland, have arrived in Burbank and are visiting at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. R. L. Palmquist, of 409 Farley court. They will remain here until the holiday season.

The Misses Lora and Della Taylor of 606 Santa Anita avenue have been entertaining as their guest Mrs. Mary Kaiser of Booneville, Indiana. She has now left for Portland after a three months' stay here.

New Method Heals Pyorrhea

Ten Year Bad Case Completely Healed in a Short Time Writes Florida Woman

Faced with the loss of her teeth, after 10 years' suffering, Mrs. M. J. Travis, an esteemed resident of Jacksonville, declares she finally saved her teeth by a simple home treatment: "worth its weight in gold," using her own words: "After having pyorrhea for 10 years my mouth is now healed. Before I found out differently I was told there was no relief and had yielded to the loss of six fine solid teeth. Then I discovered Moore's pyorrhea treatment. Three days after starting its use, the soreness left my gums; my teeth began to tighten. Now my teeth are clean, my breath sweet and my mouth completely healed."

The experience of Mrs. Travis is duplicated in hundreds of other cases. If you have pyorrhea—or threatened with pyorrhea your teeth are in danger. Quick and effective treatment is necessary. You can test, without money risk, the treatment used by Mrs. Travis. Simply write the Moreham Co., 206 Gateway Station, Kansas City, Mo. Under their guarantee of refund send two dollars. Or, pay postman the $2 with few cents postage. Use the treatment seven days. Then if you are not wholly satisfied, write to that effect and your $2 will be returned at once. —Advertisement.

Kellogg's Bran did more in two weeks than medicine taken in 20 years

Out of regard for your own health, read this letter:

Gentlemen:
Your "Krumbled Bran," used by me as a cereal, has done more for me in two weeks than the hundreds of dollars' worth of medicine I have taken in last twenty years for constipation. It is wonderful, and it is so simple. Yours truly,
Arlington H. Carman,
Patchogue, N. Y.

Mr. Carman's experience has been duplicated in thousands of homes. Why does Kellogg's Bran succeed when drugs and pills fail? The answer is simple. Drugs have an unnatural effect upon the bowels. They irritate the intestines. The more they are used, the more one has to use. Finally, they have no effect at all.

Kellogg's Bran STIMULATES the intestines. It cleans, sweeps and purifies them. It acts exactly as nature acts. And it is never necessary to increase the amount eaten. If eaten regularly, Kellogg's Bran is guaranteed to bring permanent relief to the most chronic cases of constipation, or your grocer returns your money. For Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be so effective. That is why doctors recommend Kellogg's.

The wonderful, nut-like flavor of Kellogg's Bran is exclusive. It is delicious—totally unlike ordinary brans. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Eat it with milk or cream and in the recipes on every package. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.

KENTUCKY TO GIVE DAVIS BIG VOTE

Such Is Opinion of Lawrence After Careful Analysis of Blue Grass Region

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 21.—John W. Davis will carry Kentucky. This state stood by James M. Cox in 1920 when even Tennessee broke away. It's true the majority was less than 5000, but it remained in the Democratic column just the same.

There was a tide of resentment in 1920 which does not exist today. Four years have served to turn back to the Democratic party many of those who, for one reason or another, strayed away. The late A. T. Hart, one of the shrewdest political organizers, was responsible for the improvement in the Republican vote in this state in 1920. No one has arisen to take his place.

Kentucky in Tangle

Kentucky is not without its local issues, however, which may have some bearing on the result. Senator Angustus Owsley Stanley, who won the Democratic nomination after a hard fight, seems to be capable of stirring up violent opposition either on his "wetness" or a half dozen other things which started when he was governor. He is the center of a very exciting campaign. The Louisville Courier-Journal, owned by Judge R. W. Bingham, is supporting John W. Davis for president, but Fred Sackett, the Republican nominee for the senate.

On account of his anti-prohibition views, Stanley is presumed to have the opposition of the women. But there is no La Follette candidate in these parts and Stanley will get most of the votes that are to be cast in Kentucky for La Follette. This may take care of some of the Stanley losses. He will have a close fight for re-election. The national ticket will help him.

The vote this year in Kentucky will be large. A bond issue for good roads is being voted upon. That always brings out the voters.

The registration thus far in the cities shows a gain. There is no way to tell about the rural districts, but a large ballot is expected because the Republicans in one end of the state favor the bond issue while the Democrats at the other end oppose it. The Republicans who will take the trouble to come down from the mountains to vote probably will vote a straight Republican ticket for United States senator and group everything else.

In the face of all these characteristics Kentucky may roll up as high as 30,000 for John W. Davis and if such a vote is polled, Senator Stanley might pull through.

Kentucky exhibits little interest in the campaign as a whole. The La Follette people are as usual making considerable noise and may get as high as 100,000 votes in Kentucky, though this is a maximum figure and the probabilities are it will go much lower. But the La Follette votes are coming in about equal proportions from the Democratic and the Republican parties so the effect on the two major parties will be about the same.

YOUNG TEDDY FIGHTS 'ON HIS OWN'

President Roosevelt's Son In Strenuous Battle for N. Y. Governorship

By ROBERT T. SMALL
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Endeavoring to stand "on his own" and not to be considered to be fit for office merely because he bears his father's name, young Theodore Roosevelt is making an uphill fight to be the next governor of New York. That his whole life's ambition centers in the success of the present campaign, he freely admits. His friends say the governorship would be but a stepping stone eventually to the White House. Defeat in the present campaign, however, might wreck forever, the political future of the young aspirant for another of the offices his father once filled.

Old time leaders of the Republican party admit the nomination of young "Ted" as they call him, was very much of a gamble but they feel now he probably will prove as good a vote-getter as they could possibly have selected. They wanted someone with imagination, someone with an especial appeal to the people, to offset the statewide popularity of Governor Al Smith, whose political assets are not discounted by his experienced opponent's.

Nation Watches Campaign

National interest is being manifested in the campaign of young T. R., which is proving one of the most unique ever made. The effort of the Republican managers is to get young Roosevelt in personal contact with as many voters as possible. He is being rushed about the state on a special train, with stops at anywhere from ten to twenty towns and villages in a day and with just that many five and ten minute speeches.

During most of his journeys young Roosevelt has been accompanied by a "spell binder" of the old school. Frank W. Mondell, of Wyoming, former leader of the House of Representatives in Washington has done the "heavy work" on the part of the tour; Senator James W. Wadsworth, who did more than anyone else to insure the nomination of Roosevelt, is depended upon to do the heavy firing through the latter stages of the campaign.

"Look Me Over"

The Republican plan frankly stated is to "sell" the personality of young Roosevelt. Al Smith's fling, that the Republicans had nominated a "name" and nothing else, admittedly is back of the plan. Roosevelt has said to the voters, "Look me over," and this virtually has become the slogan of his sponsors. Roosevelt's campaign is as strenuous as any his father ever undertook but he is being accompanied day and night by his wife, whom he invariably introduces to the station throngs that greet his train as it sweeps through the northern stretches of the state. He is physically fit, having inherited his father's belief in preparedness in that direction.

"Ted" knows he has a hard job in his attempt to defeat Al Smith; he knows the betting is 7 to 5 against his chances of success, but he is throwing all he has got into the fight and everyone who has seen him in action must admit that he is having a "bully time."

Young Teddy In Action

THEODORE ROOSEVELT, eldest son of the late president, is stumping New York state in his campaign for governor as the Republican nominee, and is shown here in one of the speaking attitudes famous to his illustrious father.

X—SETTING PRECEDENTS IN POLITICS

By A. S. HALL
Of The Evening News Staff.

When it comes to setting precedents in politics, there is one state which leads the rest of the Union. That state is Texas, the largest state, but not the strongest politically. It has been setting new styles in national and state politics for the past half century, and is still at it.

This year's particular new style, as everybody is fully aware, is the possibility of a woman governor. There is still a possibility, even the most staunchest Democrat in Texas will admit, since the Ku Klux Klan is backing the Republican nominee.

Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, affectionately known through the state as "Ma" Ferguson, wife of former Governor "Jim" Ferguson who was impeached during his administration, is the Democratic nominee for governor. She is opposed by George C. Butte, dean of the law school of the State University, and the Ku Klux Klan.

Klan Big Issue

Any one who says the Ku Klux Klan in Texas is not a big issue in Texas politics has never experienced a campaign in the Lone Star state. The writer has been in Texas when two state campaigns were being waged, and knows that the Ku Klux Klan is the ruling factor.

So excited do the Texans become over campaign issues that it is nothing unusual for some voters to say it with bullets instead of ballots. There is still pending in Texas courts some suits in which murder or assault to murder at election polls are the motif. In some cases convictions have been secured, and the cases appealed to higher courts, one case in particular now awaiting action of the United States Supreme court.

Another incident that need only to be cited to strengthen the statement that the Ku Klux Klan is a big factor in Texas politics is the famous Mayfield case which was thrashed out in Congress. There are others, too.

Republicans Hopeful

Although Texas has been a Democratic state for the past fifty years, generally speaking, the Republicans there are more hopeful this year than ever before, the writer learned on a recent visit to the Lone Star state. The Republicans are out to break the vote bloc in the so-called "Solid South," of which Texas is the keystone state with twenty votes in the electoral college.

Col. R. C. Creager, of San Antonio, national committeeman of the Republican party, who has seen many campaigns come and go, is perhaps the most optimistic Republican in the state. He can see only an enormously overwhelming vote for Coolidge in the state, and predicts "Ma" Ferguson will be defeated by Mr. Butte.

On the other hand, the Democrats are beginning to count the state as carried solidly, with the complete state ticket swept into office when Davis and Bryan are given the support of all staunch Democrats of the south.

Democrats Deserting

Non-partisan students of politics in the state that nestles along the banks of the Rio Grande report that in many sections the Democrats are deserting the old party. In many instances they are going to support the Republican candidate for governor, it is said. This change, it is asserted, is due to the belief that is prevalent among them that should "Ma" Ferguson be elected, it will be Jim Ferguson, her husband, who will really be at the helm of the ship of state.

Some Democrats are going over to the La Follette ranks, but it is predicted the Wisconsin senator will not poll a very heavy vote in Texas. The Wisconsin senator's activities during the war have not been forgotten in Texas, the state where numerous army training camps and permanent army corps headquarters are located.

Texas, like many other southern states, is made up of voters who are conservative, and not given over to radical ideas. This idea of conservatism dates back to the days when Thomas Jefferson was considered radical and dangerous, and this idea has not changed in Texas.

Alliances Important

Another important step in the Democratic upbuilding of Texas was the forming of national alliances, from which sprang the old Populist party. The first national alliance was formed in Texas, and in later years became to be known as the "National Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union," although it was a pure southern product.

The negro vote in Texas will swing principally to the Democratic side of the political balance, observations show. Texas colored voters, like the rest of the south, is not pleased at the manner in which negro voters and office holders in the north were treated, and the fact that only two negroes were given federal offices in the south. The death of the Dyer Anti-Lynching bill in Congress was another deciding factor, it is said.

Regardless of how Texas votes for president, the big race is going to be between "Ma" Ferguson and George C. Butte, between the anti-klan element and the Ku Klux Klan, over the office of governor. It is a campaign that is lively and unequalled in any of the states visited by the writer. Colorado, with it's klan issue, is the closest approach.

NEW ENGINES WILL SPEED UP TRAVEL

Experts Developing Machines On Internal Combustion Action In Aircraft

By J. C. ROYLE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Mechanical engineers connected with large manufacturing concerns are giving consideration just now to developments in internal combustion engines brought out by experiments for the army and navy. They are weighing especially the possibilities of following on the ground, the improvements noted in aircraft.

Among the problems on which they are working, is the use of the "super-charger" utilized recently on airplane engines at McCook Field, the government aviation ground near Dayton. This attachment was invented to force oxygen into the carbureter when planes were at great heights, where the atmosphere is rarified and contains little oxygen. The explosion of fuel in an internal combustion engine consists merely in its oxygenation. It is exactly the same chemical reaction as when coal is burned in a grate, except that in one case the oxygenation takes place rapidly and under pressure and in the other, slowly and not under pressure.

Oxygen Injected

The injection of oxygen into the carburetor of airplane engines so accelerates the engines that aviators have been able to get nine to ten miles an hour more speed out of the same engine than without it. Engineers say that the super-charger is equally adaptable to use on automobile engines, and that its use would increase speed and efficiency and reduce fuel consumption. The question which is bothering them is cost, since the use of oxygen tanks is expensive.

Some experts are talking of the possibilities of developing the use of oxygen by mixing it direct with the fuel through liquefication of the gas. Such developments are preliminary stages at present.

Some automobile experimenters have been making a close study of the eighteen cylinder airplane engine recently tested by the army. This engine, army men claim, develops one horse power for each pound of weight. It is a triple six with one vertical center row of cylinders and two additional rows placed as on the ordinary V type motor.

New Air-Cooled Engine

It is known that a new air-cooled engine now is undergoing experiments which is expected to produce a speed of at least 290 miles an hour in the air. The fuselage of the plane in which such an engine is used must be almost hermetically sealed and a normal atmosphere artificially created within the compartment occupied by the pilot since at that speed air resistance would make breathing and other physical functions impossible without protection.

The so-called flivver planes have caught the eye not only of the automotive engineers but of the public. One such model weighing but 500 pounds averaged 50 miles to the gallon of gasoline. English engineers are known to have developed a plane known as the Wren type with a piston displacement of only 42 cubic inches, a speed of 80 miles an hour, an altitude limit of 10,000 feet, and a gas consumption of one gallon to 80 miles. One American flivver engine is now being built which will have a piston displacement of only 40 cubic inches.

Commercial Planes

One English army engineer here, in discussing the possibilities of commercial planes, declared today that experiments in Europe had demonstrated that passenger planes carrying eight persons in addition to the pilot and mechanic could be operated between New York and Boston at the same rate of fare charged on extra fare passenger trains and make the journey in less than half the time.

Civilian aviators are pressing strongly for federal regulation of flying through a national violation law. They feel that once the government takes over inspection of planes and thus gives assurance of their safety, insurance companies will reduce rates on flying risks to a reasonable level and the general future of the aviation industry will benefit.

The Wrath To Come

By E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM, Copyright 1924

CHAPTER II

"Because there are no diplomatic activities left nowadays for the citizens of the United States," he replied. "The whole world has become a gigantic mart for tradespeople to buy, sell, and exchange wares. Consuls can do our business. And then I came into the Van Roorden money and turned lazy, I suppose."

"I don't follow you at all," she declared. "Even if commercial achievement has become the guiding lamp of the world, I don't in the least know what you mean by saying that there is no diplomacy left for the United States. Commerce is one of the chief reasons for diplomatic exchanges, isn't it? I know my adopted country people think so."

He shrugged his shoulders.

"Very likely," he confessed. "Don't take me too seriously. I was only inventing a justification for my laziness."

She indulged in a little grimace.

"You are distressingly uncommunicative," she observed. "I begin to suspect that we are both very clever people. All the same," she went on reflectively, "I don't see why we shouldn't exchange confidences. It might be amusing."

"It wouldn't be a fair bargain," he assured her. "Your husband holds a high official position in Berlin. He must be brought into touch with people who are intimately acquainted with the trend of political thoughts in every country. I am nobody and I know nobody."

A smile played for a moment at the corners of her lips.

"You have developed a new and most becoming trait," she declared. "You're the first modest man I've met for years. We don't raise them in Berlin."

"The conceit passed out of my system three years and two months ago," he answered a little bitterly.

She laid her hand upon his. Her voice was almost caressing.

"There is something I shall tell you about that, some day," she promised, "something which will help you to understand. Meanwhile try and believe that I too have suffered. I was not so callous as I seemed."

"I am glad to hear that," he told her with well-simulated indifference.

The room was invaded by a crowd of young people, mostly in flannels, who had evidently come down from the tennis court. The young woman who seemed to be the ringleader of their gaiety—a very attractive looking young person indeed in her white tennis clothes and smart hat—flashed a smile of welcome at Grant—as she entered the room. The smile was modified as she glanced a little curiously at his companion. When they had settled down for tea at an adjacent table, however, she looked over her shoulder.

"We are having a riotous party tonight," she announced, "dining first at the Villa, coming down here and going on to dance somewhere afterwards. Will you be my escort?"

"With the utmost pleasure," he assented promptly. "But sha'n't I be getting into trouble? What about Bobby?"

She shook her head dolefully and dropped her voice.

"Misbehaved," she confided. "Seen at Nice when he ought to have been playing tennis, yesterday afternoon—terrible! Something Russian, covered with jewels! Bobby can't afford that sort of thing, you know. We're sending him to Coventry for at least two days."

"Poor fellow!" Grant murmured sympathetically.

"Don't be a hypocrite," the girl laughed. "You know you're glad. I don't think I shall ever look at him again. And I'm all rebound! Not later than eight-thirty dinner, please. Dad told me that he wanted to see you, but we're not going to leave you at home to study bridge problems."

"I shall be punctual," Grant assured her.

"Can't talk any more," she concluded, turning away. "These greedy people are eating up all the chocolate eclairs. As it is, every one's had more than his share. You are a pig, Arthur!"

"Who is she?" Gertrude enquired under her breath. "I dislike her anyhow. I wanted you to dine with me."

"I don't know whether I ought to apologize," he observed, "for having lost the American habit of introducing. Her name is Susan Yeovil. She's very charming and very popular. Her little set keeps things moving down here."

"Is she by any chance the daughter of the English Prime Minister?" Gertrude asked eagerly.

Grant nodded.

"Lord Yeovil is down here for the International Congress," he replied. "They have a villa at Cap Martin."

"What does he want to see you for?"

"I thought that you might have learnt our secret from what Lady Susan said," he confided. "We solve the 'Field' bridge problems together. Very interesting, some of them."

"You're simply horrid," she declared impatiently.

It was the old pout which he remembered so well and a momentary tenderness beset him. He crushed it back.

"What are you in Monte Carlo for alone, just now, Gertrude?" he demanded, turning the tables upon her.

She drew a newspaper cutting from a thin gold cardcase and handed it to him. It contained a list of visitors at the various Riviera hotels, his own name amongst them—underlined. He took the slip of paper from her fingers and looked at it long and earnestly. Then he handed it back without remark.

"That is why I came," she confessed. "It is perhaps just as foolish an impulse as the impulse which swept me off my feet and made a horrible woman of me three years and two months ago. But it came and I yielded to it. And now, the first night that I am here, you are dining out. You actually accept an invitation from that forward young woman whilst you are sitting by my side."

THE GATEWAY

Norma Shearer, beautiful member of the all-star cast of John M. Stahl's "The Wanters," which will be the First National picture at the Gateway Theatre, Wednesday only, is a brilliant exponent of the theory that courage and tenacity are as necessary as ability to the girl who would reach fame on the silver sheet.

Some three years ago Miss Shearer, then a Montreal debutante, left a luxurious home for New York in search of film fame in the face of vigorous family objections. Parts in amateur plays staged by the society clubs of her native city had been her only theatrical experience, but she had optimism and enthusiasm and was certain that the great opportunity for a career would present itself, somehow, somewhere.

A year later she arrived back home, discouraged at what seemed a hopeless quest. Her conscience lashed her for giving up and her family avoided the topic of a screen career so studiously that it became almost painful. She struck out for the big city again, determined this time that nothing should stand in the way of her progress. She was satisfied with small parts to begin with. Then the theatrical world seemed to sense her brave spirit and offers started in with a rush. She rejected alluring propositions to appear in the Ziegfeld Follies and other musical shows, standing by her determination of winning a successful screen career, with the result that she is today a recognized star. In addition is the usual Wednesday's bill of select vaudeville.

DOBINSON PLAYERS

"The Country Cousin," that clever comedy by Booth Tarkington and Julian Street, which is to end with this week's engagement, is pleasing the audiences at every performance and, being a society play, is beautifully costumed, some of the gowns worn by the women calling forth considerable comment. Miss Gertrude Kellar, as the old maid country cousin, is superb in her role. Miss Rosamonde Joyzelle, as Mrs. Howitt, portrays her role splendidly. John Vosburgh as George Tewksberry Reynolds III causes a burst of laughter at each entrance. Eleanor Howitt, the little country girl, looking for life and finding it not so good, is interpreted with finesse by Mary Isabelle Alpaugh, and Richard Ehlers as Sam Wilson, who intends to be at least a senator of these United States, is so well done that even the audience is with him. William H. Stephens, George C. Pearce, Thyra Ruhland, Carroll Nye, Arthur Lovejoy, Gertrude Rothe and Harry Glazier all fill their roles well.

MURPHY'S COMEDIANS

Murphy's Comedians are now playing nightly in Burbank, where their big comedy offering, "Girl From Home," is creating gales of laughter that can be heard almost to Casa Verdugo, their former location, declares the management. Their tent occupies the corner of San Fernando boulevard and Cedar street, near the Moreland truck factory.

"Girl from Home" is one of those genial, mellow comedies that makes the audience scream with laughter one moment, and tugs at its heartstrings the next. It is a roar from start to finish, with places that cause spectators to catch their breath.

Murphy's Comedians have proved to Glendale theatre-goers that they know how to put over real entertainment, in the long list of successes to their credit during their six months in this locality, they feel, and are confident hundreds of local people will follow them to their new location.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE TACK HAMMER

The Bob Cat stood in front of the looking glass, twisting this way and that way, trying to see his silly little tail.

"Oh, dear! I wish it would grow longer!" mewed the Bob Cat. "I'd like a bushy tail, like the Fox or a wagging tail, like the Wolf. I don't see why I must go through life with a short tail!"

There was a good reason for that, though the Bob Cat did not know it. And there he stood, trying to see his tail, which he couldn't do, because it was so short. Suddenly there sounded a knock on his door.

"Come in!" he mewed, adding to himself: "Perhaps this is some one to tell me how to make my tail grow longer."

But it was the Fox and the Wolf who entered.

"How can I get a longer tail?" asked the Bob Cat.

"Don't be thinking of your silly little tail!" growled the Wolf. "We came to ask you to play a trick on Uncle Wiggily. Trick him into coming to your den and then we can have some nibbles off his ears."

"But how can I trick Uncle Wiggily into coming here to my den?" asked the Bob Cat. "He won't come just because I ask him."

"Maybe he will," said the Fox. "He went to my den but when he got there he beat up some eggs so hard that they splashed batter into my eyes and I couldn't see to catch him."

"And he came to my den," said the Wolf, "but he hit me with a potato masher and made tears come into my eyes so I couldn't see to catch him."

"So whatever trick you play, to get Uncle Wiggily here to your den," went on the Fox, "don't let him bring an egg beater or a potato masher, Mr. Bob Cat."

"I'll be careful!" whined the bad chap. "Ha! I know what I'll do," he said. "I'll ask Uncle Wiggily to come here to help me tack down my parlor carpet. I've just had it cleaned and it needs tacking down for the winter. Yes, I'll get the bunny here."

So the Bob Cat sent the rabbit gentleman this invitation:

"Please come and help me tack down my carpet."

Now Uncle Wiggily was good and kind and also rather foolish at times. So when he got the Bob Cat's invitation he said:

"I'll go help him tack down his carpet. Perhaps if I am kind to the Bob Cat he won't be bad any more and try to nibble my ears. I'll take Nurse Jane's tack hammer and help him lay his carpet."

So the bunny took the tack hammer and over the fields and through the woods he hopped. If Nurse Jane had been at home she never would have let him go. But Nurse Jane was down at the five and six cent store buying a new dining room table.

With his tack hammer Uncle Wiggily hopped into the Bob Cat's den.

"Where's the carpet you want laid?" asked the rabbit.

"Here!" answered the Bob Cat, opening the parlor door. And he intended—the bad chap did—when Uncle Wiggily was in the parlor, to lock the door and keep the rabbit there until the Fox and Wolf could come. "Walk into my parlor," said the Bob Cat to Uncle Wiggily.

But just as the rabbit was going in, the Bob Cat was so hungry for an ear nibble that he leaned over, intending to bite the rabbit. And Uncle Wiggily saw him—just in time.

"Ha! You're trying to play a trick on me, aren't you?" cried the rabbit. "I should have known better than to come here. But I'll fix you. I'll not tack any carpet—I'll tack YOU!"

With that the rabbit began to tap the Bob Cat on the toes with the tack hammer.

"Tap! Tap! Tappity-rat-tat!" went the hammer on the toes of the bad chap.

"Ouchie! Wowchie! Woozie! Skoozie!" howled the Bob Cat hopping up and down with the pain in his toes.

"Bang! Bang!" went the rabbit with the hammer and then the Bob Cat jumped out of the window and ran away as fast as he could run.

"Saved again!" laughed the bunny, as he hopped to his bungalow. "It's a good thing I had my tack hammer with me." And if the sugar bowl doesn't try to stand on its head on top of a golf ball, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and little Uppie.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

HOW NOT TO BE MISERABLE WHILE REDUCING

"Dear Doctor:—After I had reduced from 265 to 162 by a certain method, I came across your instructions for reducing. I was very miserable while losing this weight and I believe, since reading your instructions, that it was because I did not have a balanced diet.—Mrs. K."

I believe so, too, Mrs. K., because, among the thousands and thousands of letters I have received from those who have reduced, and the many cases I treated while in private practice, I cannot remember one who complained of feeling miserable during the process. On the contrary, without exception, all stated that they felt better. Some have complained of rather constant hunger, but not many. Occasionally some state that while they felt 100 (or 200 or 300) per cent better, they looked like Helen Marcia while reducing; but when they were down to normal and on their maintenance diet, they looked 100 (or 200 or 300) per cent better also.

There is no doubt that a reducing diet deficient in the elements which the body needs will result in a loss of muscular tissue, a certain amount of degeneration of the nervous system, and anemia, if it is continued for any length of time.

A normal balanced diet should consist of approximately 10 per cent protein ("meat" element in food), 25 per cent fat and 65 per cent carbohydrates (starches and sugar). In the reducing diet the fat can be cut down to one-quarter or even less, the normal amount, and the carbohydrates can be cut down to one-half the amount, but the normal amount of protein must not be changed. This, you see, will vary the percentage. We eat protein for repair and growth and it is just as important that the growth and repair amount be supplied while reducing. This amount is dependent upon our age and size, NOT our activities. (It used to be thought that work and exercise also modified the need for protein, but we know that this is not true, and that increased exercises and work call for food which supplies energy only. Therefore, the energy foods—the carbohydrates and fats—are the foods to be increased when there is increased work and exercise).

The average maintenance diet of the sedentary worker is around 2300 calories a day. (The m. d. is a diet sufficient to supply all of the activities, externally and internally, of the body).

We'll take the sedentary worker for he or she is the one most apt to get overweight.

Now, we'll say this sedentary worker has gained so obviously she has had more than her 2200 calories. She wants to reduce. One-quarter of a pound a day is a safe rate. One-quarter pound of fat—human, pork, vegetable, any kind—will furnish 1000 calories. When she uses her own human (or better inhuman) fat, then she must consume 1000 calories less of food, so that this fat can be used. That leaves 1200 calories she can have in food. Now human fat is solely energy food. It will not supply the protein needs for growth and repair nor the mineral elements and vitamins necessary for proper functioning; so, in order not to feel miserable while reducing the 1200 calories she has in food must do that. It will do that if her diet contains as a foundation, two glasses of skim or buttermilk; one pound of vegetables, especially the green leaf vegetables; one pound of fruit; especially the citrus fruit; one or two medium sized potatoes OR one or two slices of bread; three or four ounces of lean meat, or fish, or two or three eggs, or three ounces of cottage cheese; one level tablespoonful of butter (if whole milk is taken, leave the butter out). All this will approximate 900 calories. That leaves her 300 calories for anything she likes especially, even candy. (Best not, though, for that keeps up the longing). Fifteen minutes of vigorous exercise a day is exceedingly helpful if exercise can be taken.

So see that your reducing diet is right. Exercise if you can, and you won't be miserable while reducing.

Tomorrow—Answers to Mothers

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible; if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Readers of this column have generously sent in the following recipes for other women to enjoy:

"Coffee Cake: Cream together one cup of granulated sugar and one table spoon of butter. Add one well beaten egg, one cup of sweet milk, and three cups of flour which have been sifted with three teaspoons of baking powder, a pinch of salt, and one-third teaspoon of ground nutmeg. Turn the mixture into a buttered pan and sprinkle on top a mixture consisting of one-half cup of sugar one teaspoon of flour, one-fourth teaspoon of ground cinnamon and one teaspoon of butter. Bake in a hot oven for about 20 minutes."

"Chocolate Icing and Filling for Cake: (Contributed by R. L. D.): Put two squares of bitter chocolate over hot water to melt, then add one teaspoon of butter. Stir one and one-half cups of confectioners' sugar into three table spoons of cream, and to this add the melted chocolate. Stir long enough to mix thoroughly, then spread on the cake. To make a fluffy icing of this recipe, use evaporated milk instead of cream, and add the chocolate while warm, then beat thoroughly."

"Lemon Pie with Two Crusts: (Contributed by Mrs. S. V.) Put into a mixing bowl the grated rind and pulp of either four large lemons or five small lemons. Add four cups of granulated sugar, the yolks of five eggs well beaten, two tablespoons of flour, two cups of cold water, and last add the stiffly beaten whites of the five eggs. Turn the mixture into a pan lined with uncooked pastry, put on top crust, and slip it into a hot oven to bake for about ten minutes, then reduce oven heat to medium and let continue to bake for about 30 minutes."

"Sweet Potato Biscuits: (Contributed by Mrs. C. M.) To one cup of mashed sweet potato add one tablespoon of sugar and one tablespoon of butter; cream the mixture, then add one cupful of buttermilk in which one-half teaspoon of baking soda has been dissolved. Also add two cups of flour sifted with one teaspoon of salt. Mix well and roll out on a slightly floured board. Cut with small cutter and bake in a hot oven for 15 minutes."

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman, in care of the "Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use YOUR full name, street number, and the name of your city and state.—The Editor.

London Ants Start War Of Their Own at Zoo

LONDON, Oct. 21.—Idealists probably will be shocked to learn that the war fever still clutches modern London. Great excitement has been caused by a war between rival colonies of ants at the Regent's Park Zoo. Newspapers have carried daily dispatches from the front, written in the best war style. Crowds gather to see the battles. White-sand battlefield with concentrated lights to aid the war between the two armies of ants have been laid out.

The publicity given to this "war" has not been without protest, and some newspapers have printed violent criticism from ex-soldiers against such methods of making "an English holiday."

ELECTION COSTS U. S. $30,000,000

Sum Necessary to Install Nation's Officials In Numerous Offices

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The conduct of a national election costs American voters upwards of $30,000,000, according to the best available statistics.

Reliable reports indicate this stupendous sum is necessary to-stall the nation's officials in office through the medium of the ballot box.

In 1920, when campaign expenidtures reached their dizziest heights, officially reported disbursements showed that each vote cast represented 80 cents spent! Unavailable figures probably would add several more dimes to the cost.

Division of Taxes

Of the estimated $30,000,000 necessary to hold a national election, about one-third is paid by the states out of revenues derived from taxation. The remainder is contributed by the adherents and components of the various political parties.

The most expensive individual office is, of course, the presidency. It cost the Republican party the best part of $8,780,000 to install Warren G. Harding in office four years ago.

That total was divided as follows: Over $2,800,000 was spent on behalf of the ten Republican aspirants for the presidential nomination in the pre-convention campaign; the national committee reported a paid-up expenditure of $5,319,729 during the campaign, and it later paid off in addition a deficit of $1,600 000 contracted during the fight.

Democrats More Conservative

The Democrats were much more conservative. The money spent on behalf of James M. Cox totaled about $2,660,000.

In addition to the expenditures of the national committees of the two dominant parties, their congressional committees managed to dispose of slightly over $400,000; their senatorial committees reported an outlay of more than $330,000 and their state committees spent nearly $3,000,000.

To be exact, the total reported expenditures of the Republican and Democratic parties in 1920 amounted to $15,128,542.92!

'Watch Your Step' Is Meant In St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 21.—Pedestrians who pass an automatic traffic signal which is set against them will get a ride in the patrol wagon if the plans of Alderman John F. Brod, Jr., chairman of the traffic council, to make this city safe for motorists are carried out.

Brod has announced he would ask the police be instructed to arrest pedestrians who disregard the signals of the silent policemen, in the same manner that motorists are now arrested for the same offense. If Brod's plan is carried out it will be the first effort ever made to enforce the traffic ordinances against the pedestrian.

Northern California Discovers Jerusalem

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 21.—The Garden of Eden may have been located in Southern California but Northern California can lay claim to the township of Jerusalem, according to Owen C. Coy, director of the California State Historical association. The town of Jerusalem was founded in 1850 on the present site of Sacramento's city cemetery, Coy has discovered. Jerusalem failed to prosper after the gold rush, and was abandoned.

Man-Eating Cannibals Still Do Their Stuff

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 21.—Man-eating cannibals are still doing ther stuff along the coast of the Indian ocean, according to a report brought here by Captain K. B. Lowry, of the Dollar Line steamer President Garfield.

The cannibals live on Sakrota Island, between Colombo an dthe Suez Canal. On the island there is also a lighthouse, operated by the British government. Every few months the lighthouse keeper disappears.

"Just another keeper eaten," a neighboring official told Captain Lowry when informed that the lights were out.

The job is open.

TIGERS OUT FOR BLOOD OF IRISH

Princeton-Notre Dame Game On Saturday Promises Real Gridiron Test

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 21.—They send a man out ahead with a red flag when they are about to shoot a blast, but Princeton is extending no courtesy of this kind to Notre Dame. There is definite and abiding danger awaiting the Irish at Princeton on Saturday. Deep down in his heart every Tiger expects to win, but this innermost conviction has been concealed behind what might be termed, paradoxically, an outward show of secret gloom.

From Bill Roper on down to the third substitute end, Princeton is "shushing" everything and everybody, while it tiptoes about its mysterious business.

Roper Releases Secret

But the mutual tragedy on a train that was one hour and twenty minutes late finally brought Roper and the writer upon common ground and the secret to-wit, was out:

Roper expects to stop the Notre Dame running mates, in spite of the fact that he is fully cognizant of the personal and combined ability of Miller, Crowley, Layden and Stuhldereher. He ought to be, at any rate. He has had Jack Winn scout the Irish in every game played, and any time Princeton consistently scouts a team, outside the big three, something is about to fizz.

"Where would you play your center, in or out of the line?" he suddenly shot at me.

Real Game Promised

The reply was studiously cautious. Notre Dame, I intimated, wasn't a team to be figured in advance.

"They beat you last year without passing," he was reminded.

"They'll pass this year," he said. "We'll break up their running attack, you mark my words. Come down and see us on Saturday. You will see a real football game."

Then he went into the silence. It was broken periodically by one of Roper's eccentricities—an affirmative "Yes, yes" coming out of nowhere, and being all the more surprising because nothing else had been said for some minutes.

The writer rallied, however, and asked him what he thought he had. This, it appeared, was a long story. Boiled down, Princeton, it seemed, had nothing more than it had in 1922, when a team of obscure players rushed through the season to a championship. He has plenty of letter men—Dinsmore, Stout, Hill, Howard, Gates, Caldwell, Tillson, Gibson—but none of them were prominent last year, when the Tigers had an unrepresentative team.

"But they are coming," he said. "They may be the 1922 team all over again. The Notre Dame game will be our Rubicon, just as the Chicago game was in 1922.

"I suppose Notre Dame is a 3-to-1 favorite?" he suddenly asked in his intense way.

"Not a chance, quoth the writer. "Three to two would be more like it."

"I'd like to take some 3-to-2 money," he said, in the manner of one who offers the chance of a lifetime. "My team is in great condition. We didn't get a bruise in the Navy game—not a bruise. That's going to count in the fourth period on Saturday.

"I'd say the longer the game went without a score, the better our chances, wouldn't you, Jack?" turning to Winn. Jack said it would.

Then they went into conference on formations, diagrammed on the back of a letter. It is understood that Princeton plans to pass the Irish dizzy, although Slagle of last year's freshman team has proved himself something of a ball runner.

But the main fact is that Princeton plans to win. Never before has it taken a team outside the Big Three so seriously. That 25-to--2 defeat last season is no less poignant for the passing of a year.

RINGSIDE GOSSIP

By FAIR PLAY
Special Correspondent of The Evening News. Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—A series of bouts will start next month to determine what opponent is going to rescue Benny Leonard, the light champion, from the fascination of the Kleig lights of the movies and the footlights of the stage and force him to sniff again the powdered resin of the ring and mayhap the reviving ammonia bottle. The first of these bouts will be between Jack Bernstein of Yonkers and Sammy Mandell the speedy boy from Illinois.

Sammy is a smart boxer with a grand defence but he met his match in coolness and quick wittedness when he faced Joey Sanger of Milwaukee recently. In the seventh round of that battle, Mandell stopped one with his chin and went to canvass for the count of nine. He took all the time he could but it was not sufficient to allow him to recover and while he arose he dropped again as Sanger started another sock.

The referee started a new count but Joey touched him on the shoulder and said: "Save your voice. The fight's over. He went down without being hit." The referee gasped but admitted Sanger was right and the fight went to the records as a seven round knockout for Sanger. If Sanger or someone equally quick witted had been behind Firpo when the South American clashed with Dempsey there might have been a new heavyweight champion in the pictures by now.

Mexico had better devise an income tax. If the newly imported leather pushers from the country make good to any extent the republic south of the Rio Grande, will lose a lot of unearned increment unless such a tax is put into effect. For the Mexican boxers promise to become drawing cards at the box office. The latest successor to the fighting shoes of Joe Rivera and Aurelio Rerrera is Tony Fuentes who is working eastward under direction of Fred Winsor. Winsor brought Cliff Kramer east in 1922 when the pride of his stable had a decision over Floyd Johnson to his credit. Kramer did not get a chance to show his wares but perhaps Winsor will have better luck with Fuentes. Too much cannot be forecast in this direction, however, for Winsor, for a time, held a contract with Jack Dempsey before the latter made a reputation and let him go as a false alarm. Fuentes is a heavyweight but if he has any of the goods displayed by Rivere and Serrero in their own class, what a furor he could create in heavyweight circles.

Refund Checks on Tax Payments Not Claimed

Four thousand checks, amounting to a fortune, are being held by Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell until they are claimed by Southern California taxpayers. These checks are for the 25 per cent income tax refund and were mailed to taxpayers at the address given on their income returns. Evidently they have moved, for 4,000 checks were returned by the postoffice marked "gone." Eighty thousand refund checks have already been sent out by Collector Goodcell and 1,000, which will close the refunding, will be in the mails by the end of the week.

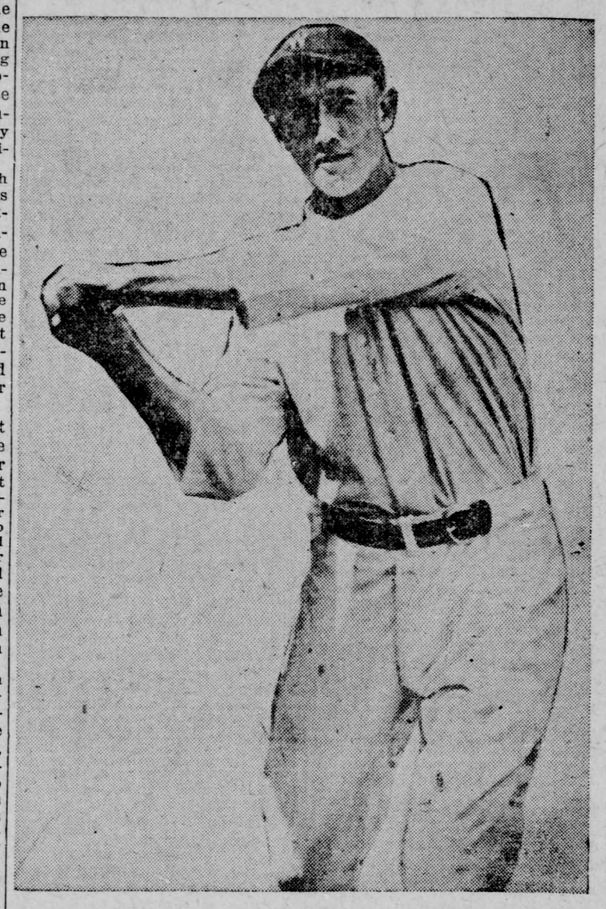
Collector Goodcell said that $7,623,699.91 in cash refunds and credits on their income tax bills payable this year have been made to Southern California taxpayers under the new revenue act signed by President Coolidge June 4. The checking up and payment of this immense refund to 81,000 taxpayers has set a new record in point of time in the government's history, Collector Goodcell said.

Movie Actress Is Held On Five Traffic Charges

SANTA ANA, Oct. 21.—Peggy Shaw, motion picture actress, and former Ziegfeld "Follies" girl, was arrested near here today by Motorcycle Officer F. G. Yodar and charged with five violations of the state motor vehicle act. She was released to appear in court Friday. The charges against her are: A mutilated operator's license, an unsigned registration certificate, speeding over 45 miles an hour, crossing an intersection at more than 35 miles an hour and unlawfully changing the address on a registration certificate.

Comes To Glendale Sunday

EARL McNEELY, outfielder for the Washington Senators, whose single sent the run across the plate which won the world series for Washington, will play with the Glendale White Sox here next Sunday. Hollywood Merchants will oppose the local team.



"Earl McNeely" day in Glendale will be celebrated next Sunday when McNeely, outstanding star of the world's series, and hard-hitting, pill-grabbing outfielder of the Washington Senators, will play with the Glendale White Sox against Floyd Carleton's all-professional Hollywood Merchants. The game will be played at the White Sox ball park at San Fernando Road and Park avenue.

It is going to be a whale of a game, according to present indications, and will mean as much to Glendale and Hollywood as the last game of the world's series meant to Washington and New work, with McNeely playing the role of hero. If the White Sox ball plant on San Fernando Road is not jammed to the centerfield fence, then something's wrong.

McNeely will leave the batting list for the White Sox, Frank Kerwin, owner of the White Sox, has announced. "Ping" Bodie, known as the "Frisco Fencebuster," who is playing with Glendale this winter, will be clean-up man in the batting order.

Ray French, former Vernon flash, who has traveled around the big circuit several years, will probably follow McNeely in the batting order. French has been doing some high class hitting, as well as sensational fielding at shortstop. "Chicken" Hawks, stellar first baseman of the local team, will be one hand to slam out a few. Hawks was out of the game last Sunday on account of a wrenched back, but the injury is yielding to treatment and Hawks will be back in the lineup.

"Ken" Penner, who hurled last season for Vernon and turned in a long string of victories, will be in the box for Glendale. Penner has been signed by Kerwin for the winter. Carleton has not announced his pitcher for the big game, but it is expected he will use Elmer Reiger, former Vernon and White Sox hurler, on the mound.

Box seat tickets for the game are being sold now.

Southwest Shows Big Improvement In Crops

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 21.—A survey of the states traversed by the Missouri Kansas and Texas railroad shows improved crop and financial conditions. Farmers are paying their debts but their buying capacity will be limited until the next crop is sold. There has been a revival of interest in farm lands.

Players Again to Give 'Country Cousin' Play

"The Country Cousin," Booth Tarkington's genial comedy of small town life, will be seen again tomorrow afternoon and evening, at the Tuesday Afternoon club theatre, 2:30 o'clock matinee and 8:15 o'clock at night, Miss Eva Daniels, business manager of the Dobinson Players, announced today.

The play also will be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday night, with a Saturday matinee. The leading roles are played by John Vosburgh, Gertrude Kellar and Richard Ehlers, who won the admiration of Glendale theatregoes by their work in "A Prince There Was," the initial offering of the Dobinson Players.

Wilson School to Play Match Baseball Game

A gala day at Wilson Intermediate school will be held tomorrow, when the men of the faculty, under the leadership of Harry Lentz will play a match game of baseball with picked teams from the boys of the school. Richardson D. White will be umpire. The money from the sale of admission tickets will be used to purchase athletic equipment. Members of the Girls' Athletic club will be in charge of a candy sale under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Struble.

Deposed Ball Manager Threatens Salary Suit

OAKLAND, Oct. 21.—Unless William Klepper, president of the Portland Baseball club, sends $3,000 back salary to W. J. Kenworthy by next week, the deposed manager of the Beavers will file suit with John Farrell of the National Baseball association, he said today.

"I wrote two letters to Klepper asking for the salary," Kenworthy said. "Neither was answered so I sent a telegram Friday. No reply has come. If by next week no answer with salary reaches me from the Portland management I shall wire Farrell."

ABOUT BASEBALL

By JOHN B. FOSTER
Special Correspondent of The Evening News. Copyright, 1924.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The curtain rings down on baseball, so far as the playing season of 1924 is concerned, with the final games Sunday in the Pacific Coast league. Three teams—Seattle, Los Angeles and San Francisco—have remained in the race on the coast right down to the finish and a fourth club, Oakland, had a fighting chance until Thursday's games had been played.

Seattle Won the Flag

As was the case in the major leagues and the American association where there were close finishes, the winning club finishes with percentage under .600. The International league, in which Baltimore made a runaway race of it, was the only organization with a rating as high as class AA that produced a winner with a percentage above 600.

In all probability it will be many years before such close races will be seen in so many leagues. In many respects it was good for baseball that there were so many tight ones this year. It offset the idea that championships were cut and dried affairs for the clubs that had the most money. It renewed interest in some cities and held baseball fans in others. A runaway race is never liked either by the public or a club owner.

The Boston Americans may desert Texas for training quarters next season. They are vacillating between San Antonio and Sanford, Florida. If they go to Florida they expect to get better results from exhibition games without being so far away from home when the season begins.

If the Red Sox do change, eleven of the major league teams will be seen in Florida next spring and that will give the sunshine state all the spring baseball that it can assimilate.

The Florida delegation will be made up of the Philadelphia Athletics, at Fort Myers, the world champion Washingtons at Tampa, the Phillies at Bradentown, the Boston Braves and the New York Yanks at St. Petersburg, Brooklyn at Clearwater, the St. Louis Americans at Tarpon Springs, Cleveland at Lakeland, Cincinnati at Orlando and the New York Giants possibly at Sarasota.

The Chicago Americans are going to Shreveport, La. There will be three teams on the Pacific coast, all of them National league. The St. Louis Cardinals will train at Stockton, California, while the Pittsburgh Pirates will be conditioned at Paso Robles and the Chicago Cubs will have their annual jaunt to Catalina Island. Detroit presumably will go back to Augusta, although Ty Cobb may also decide to try his hand in Florida.

Walter Johnson Gives Home Town Real Thrill

COFFEYVILLE, Kan., Oct. 21.—Walter Johnson, ace of the world champion Senators' pitching staff, played to his home town yesterday and the home town played to him. Virtually all business was suspended while a big parade passed through gaily decorated streets in advance of a ball game in which Coffeyville's own Walter played the hero role.

After the game a banquet was given with Walter as the guest of honor. The Johnson family left today for Fullerton, Cal., where Walter will appear in an exhibition game. Fullerton is responsible for his start in baseball.

The big pitcher and his family will spend the winter in Reno, Nev. He will decide while in California whether to take over the franchise of a coast league team.

FIGHT RESULTS

AT BROOKLYN—Joey Silvers, Brooklyn, decisioned Ruby Stein, New York, six rounds.

AT CINCINNATI—Joe Anderson, Covington, Ky., welterweight, shaded Jimmy Finlay of Louisville, ten rounds.

AT BALTIMORE—Nate Carp, Baltimore, awarded decision over Len Brenner, Lancaster, Pa., end ninth round; Jackie Feldman, New York flyweight, and Young Denico, Washington, fought twelve-round draw; Billy Drake, German lightweight, beat John L. Sullivan, Washington, six rounds.

AT SALT LAKE—Izzy Tanner, Denver welterweight, and Frankie Darren, Salt Lake, six-round draw.

Miss Beulah Louise Henry, of New York, claims to know nothing about mechanics, but has forty-seven inventions to her credit.

Portland Club Scout To Control Ball Team

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 21.—Tom Turner, scout of the Portland Baseball club, will take over the controlling interest in the club held by William H. Klepper, president, within the next few days, he announced today.

John T. Shibe, part owner of the Philadelphia Athletics, is among the eastern men who are backing Turner in financing the deal. Turner however, stated that no major league organization will control the club.

Turner said five or six men were under consideration as manager of the club. He refused to divulge their names but rumor has it that the men under consideration are Jimmie Middleton, Jack Onslow, Ire Thomas, Earl Mack, son of Connie Mack; Oscar Vitt and Bill Rodgers.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

SAYS BACKACHE OFTEN MEANS YOU HAVE NOT BEEN DRINKING ENOUGH WATER

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such acids overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids of the system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, can not injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. Drink lots of soft water. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement.

Elevated Train Help Awarded Raise In Wage

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 21.—The increase of 2½ cents an hour awarded employes of the Boston elevated system recently by the State Board of Arbitration, makes the basic wage 72½ cents compared with 63 cents for the surface lines of New York, 70 cents in Detroit, 68½ cents in Phildelphia, and 67 cents in Pittsburgh and St. Louis. Only Chicago has a higher rate. The schedule is retroactive to July 1.

Louisiana Sugar Crop Lowest for 30 Years

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 21.—Government forecasts for the Louisiana sugar crop place the total at 37,000 tons, the lowest output for thirty years. This was due to drought. The shortage in cane crops of other southern states is causing an unusual demand for syrup and more of the 1924 crop will be made into syrup than ever before. Advance sales of syrup are being made at 43 cents a gallon with planters asking 45 cents.

ONE BEST BET

The number of sales we have made recently is PROOF POSITIVE that we are offering some really wonderful bargains, but today we offer a still greater one—if that is possible.

A BIG 65-FT. CORNER CUT EXACTLY IN HALF $4000 TO $2000

Without reservation, or exception, we say that this POSITIVELY CAN NOT BE DUPLICATED ANYWHERE. In the same district, on lower ground, you'll pay more for 50-foot inside lots. Owner simply had to have money—that is the only reason for the tremendous sacrifice we have been making. Here is an opportunity to secure a homesite in the most beautifully situated residential district of Glendale for the same money—YES, FOR LESS—than you'd pay for lots on "the flat", and at the same time make an investment that positively INSURES a LARGE and QUICK PROFIT.

ONCE AGAIN! Remember, this is a 65-ft. corner, only a few blocks beyond the Brand castle, at HALF PRICE—based upon any valuation.

ONLY $500

Secures this snap—the balance in 2 years, quarterly. If interested, ACT AT ONCE. Just as soon as owner takes in a little more money that will be the end of the sacrifice prices.

Go Out This Afternoon

Drive out Brand Blvd. to Kenneth Road, west to Grand View, north to Mountain Ave., then west about 3 blocks to big sign "$2750 lots CUT to ONLY $1500". JACKSON'S OFFICE right there; open EVERY AFTERNOON from 2 to 5; BE SURE you go to right office.

LIQUOR GRAFT GETS AIRING IN NORTH

Federal Grand Jury to Probe Wholesale Charges Made In San Francisco

By L. C. OWEN
Special Correspondent of the Glendale Evening News. Copyright, 1924

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—Can Uncle Sam's prohibition enforcement agents afford to be honest on $170 monthly wage? Also is it safe to entrust anti-liquor law enforement with its many great temptations to pooriy paid civil peace officers?

Clergymen, public officials and thousands of citizens here who do not maintain any underground liasons with liberal handed bootlegging elements asked themselves these questions today as the federal grand jury prepared to launch an investigation into alleged hydra-headed graft in connection with Volstead enforcement in this district. Should some of the current tales of alleged wholesale corruption be supported with evidence there not only would be an explanation of why San Francisco is the third wettest city in the United States, but it may have another graft expose almost paralleling that twenty years ago.

Strictly Wet Issue

Unlike the Abe Ruef expose, however, the present investigation is not a case of municipal government corruption. It is entirely a prohibition angle. Alleged to be involved in it are not only prohibition enforcement agents and police, both of high and low degree, but also some civil officials of somewhat exalted station. Seven arrests already have been made and should the forecasts of federal prosecutors who are behind the investigation be borne out, the number will exceed the proverbial seventy and seven before the grand jury gets through.

The question into which the United States district attorney here says the grand jury will go thoroughly into and regarding which he says secret service agents already have gathered much confirmatory evidence, is whether civil authorities and prohibition enforcement agents working hand in hand for many months have not been maintaining a combined government-police immunity ring for bootleggers. The grand jury also will determine how many millions, if any, the same ring has exacted in tribute from bootleggers whom they are alleged to have protected.

Bootleggers Careless

The impending inquiry, it develops, is the result of the failure of prominent bootleggers to follow the well known adage about not letting the right hand know what the left hand does. The bootleggers in question kept a memorandum book in which they set down not only the amounts, but also the names of officers, both civil and governmental, to whom they had been paying money. Unfortunately the book fell into evil hands—evil at least to all persons whose names were found in it.

Since then, if credence is to be placed in whispered reports around bootlegger haunts, more than a dozen of the latter gentry—some of them big operators—have sought out government officials and made clean breasts of everything. Their disclosures, it is likewise said, reach far into police and other officialdom.

Present allegations of corruption in federal prohibition circles here apparently are the climax of some allegations that have been rife for the past two years.

Civil Officers Involved

Never before, however, has the federal grand jury gone into the situation. Previous charges have run the gamut of everything from the disappearance of huge quantities of liquor to "suspending" without prosecution of several dry agents with $5000 automobiles and $50,000 homes.

Involving civil peace officers, however, is a new thing. Under the recently enacted California Wright law police and civil officers of all kinds were mandatorially instructed to enforce prohibition. Few civil officers get even as much as federal dry agents. Lately bootleggers have been boasting they could also grease the palms of the latter.

"No man can afford to be honest on $170 a month or less," says the bootleggers and because the federal grand jury may shortly find some stock in the assertion, a lot of representative citizens here are wondering if the bootleggers are not right.

SHORN LOCKS FIND PLACE IN TRADE

Thousands of Yards Human Tresses Will Make Many Articles of Use

By EDNA MARSHALL
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News. Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Human tresses for carpets, rugs, mattresses, ornaments and tailors' stiffening—these are some of the uses it has been decreed that bobbed locks shall be put to. It matters not if they are black, brown, blond or white—fashion seems to have decided that the proverbial lock of a woman's hair must have more uses than to be carried in a mere man's locket or made into a switch to be tacked into the back of a drawer against the distant day when hair may be worn long again.

Ever since it first became plain that the average woman dared not face the world with her hair in the primitive, uncut state that Eve, the good first woman, started, there has been the problem of what to do with the excess hair.

No one wanted it. The women did not. Thousands of yards of hair were being shorn daily from off as many women's heads. They wanted no throwbacks to their unfree days. The barbers did not. Whereas in the days when frequenters of barber shops were 100 per cent male, the debris from 1000 cuts could be tucked in a bushel basket and sent to the city dump, now it takes a small sized truck to cart away the load of long hair that goes with a good day's cutting.

The rage for short hair has never died as the pessimists insisted that it would. Women have not torn out their few remaining locks and wept to think there were not more of them.

Switches, coaxed into lovely coiffures to grace the feminine heads, have long been out of style, and seems apt to remain in the discard. Switches, as such, have no use at all.

They had not, that is, until the arrival of a dapper little Frenchman who stepped off an ocean steamer here last week. From the smile he wore as he crossed the gang-plank, observers guessed he was up to something more than a gay time.

Frenchman Solves Problem

Straight to the barber shops he went, and there ensued a series of confabs, long and serious, which culminated in a meeting yesterday in a big shop in Manhattan.

The Frenchman was the chief spokesman. The barbers listened hard with brows that were knit in thought. "The hair," they heard the Frenchman say, "is too beautiful a thing to be thrown away, or to be put aside and forgotten. When women with luxuriant heads of hair decide to have a bob, they do it knowing that their hair will grow in rapidly any time they are willing. That is why they never take the shorn locks from the barbershop with them, any more. Yet, it is wicked to throw them away."

And then in a long drawn harangue, the problem of what to do with the excess hair was solved—and the tonsorial artists, it leaked out, acquiesced.

Uses for Shorn Locks

The reclamation of switches has been planned—but switches of a new and strange variety. Human hair can be woven, it seems, into very lovely riding crops to furnish the last touch to the fashionable equestrian habit.

Human hair, providing it is soft and silky enough, can be woven into charming little rugs, perhaps to grace a bathroom or complete a bedroom suite. It can be worked into cloth which would be more valuable even than the "camel's hair" coat material which has had such popularity. It can be made in attractive hanging baskets to ornament the most luxurious homes and conservatories.

And the barbers—at least, a group of them—have agreed that it will be, or that they will save their patrons' bobbed tresses to try to sell and help the Frenchman's plan along.

Gold bars worth $25,000,000 have been salvaged by the British Admiralty from the White Star Liner Laurentic, which was torpedoed off Lough Swilly in 1917.

It takes a whole trainload of helium to inflate the "Los Angeles," newly-christened ZR-3, Los Angeles.

"Los Angeles" is the biggest gas bag extant, a wag might say, despite the fact it was made in Germany.

Other things besides Zeppelins are made in Germany. Films, for instance. In a recent propaganda film produced in Germany, ravages of French womanhood by the poilu have caused Parisian authorities to prosecute the French girls who were hired to take part in the picture.

Germans and French, alike, have a peculiar sense of propriety. It is one reason why Americans, the cosmopolite race, does not approve much that Europe does.

And it is the same reason—this sense of propriety about Americans—that causes all other countries, with the possible exception of England and Japan, to repect the United States.

England doesn't disrespect America. It simply doesn't understand how the "little upstart" gets away with everything. The British mind is slow in grasping the fact that America no longer is a colony, that it is made up of peoples from every nation on earth.

As for Japan, it is going through that period of internal convulsions that displays itself in every nation brought within the purview of the world without. It wants to make itself felt as a nationality. It is even endeavoring to establish itself as a "white race," rather than Mongolian.

Sooner or later it will learn, as America learned in its Civil war; as England learned in mediaeval times; and so on back through history. History keeps repeating itself.

Speaking of history repeating itself, Los Angeles has had its bliss of police reform stirred by reports of wide open gambling in the downtown district.

There is something about gambling that will not down. During August Vollmer's crime crushing regime the gamblers moved outside of the business district. And they kept busy.

Then, when one of the old-timers in the department was elevated to the office of chief, the gamblers crept back to their old haunts. There is no question but that the patrolmen on their beats knew they were there; there is no doubt but what the detectives knew they were there.

But what's the use? You can't behead restaurant men who lose their fortunes and their mental balance in a game of cards; you can't blame a soft drink establishment for having a card game handy; you can't blame the police for not wanting to create trouble until some one creates it for them. And you can't blame a police chief for not laying himself liable to extinction, politically or otherwise, by campaigning against those denizens of the underworld, who, like a many-headed snake, are broken to pieces, only to get together again.

And that's that.

India is exporting 50 per cent more, in value, than it imports.

Fashion Show Event of Oakmont Dinner Dance

The main feature of the dinner-dance given at the Oakmont Country club Saturday night was the fashion show, staged while the dinner was in progress. Six professional models from the Golden studios, Los Angeles, exhibited fashions of the hour, showing Suzanne's smart hats, with C. J. Hatz's preview of Irene Castle frocks and wraps. Suzanne exhibited coats and hats in wood shades, metallic dance hats and lace brim hats for afternoon wear, all of the hats being specially designed to wear with Irene Castle model frocks and wraps.

Two hundred and eighty members and guests attended the dinner-dance and fashion revue, including residents from Glendale, Hollywood, Los Angeles, Pasadena and Eagle Rock. The club was decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums. Guests included Dr. H. J. Haisch, Paul Stillman, Clark Gilley, George Ley, Lem Davis, Mrs. William Hunter and Mrs. Ed. Ohlsen.

Short Circuit Causes Fire Damage to Auto

A short circuit in the wiring system of a car belonging to Fred S Hill of 112½ South Orange street, parked at the corner of Columbus avenue and Doran street, caused the Glendale fire department to turn out yesterday afternoon. The damage was slight, reported Chief A. H. Lankford.

The fire department was called to 111 South Orange street at 8:15 o'clock last night by a false alarm. Someone had smelled smoke, investigation revealed, and, thinking the apartment house at that address on fire, turned in an alarm.

Three Wise Men of the West

THREE wise men came to our Bank the other day. The first, a chemist, brought valuable formulas. Close on his heels was the second with the deed and insurance policies that protect his home. The third wise man carried rare gems wrapped in a bit of velvet.

They went away leaving their treasures behind...in SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES in our fire and burglar-proof vault..... WISE MEN!

For a few cents a day they trade worry and fear that their valuables may be lost, destroyed or stolen for a sense of absolute security.
